THE BEECHER TRIAL.

The Journalistic Troubles of Theodore Tilton.

How Bowen Cancelled Contracts.

THE "CATHERINE GAUNT" LETTER.

NEW YORK, February 9, 1875.

The suit of Theodore Tilton against Rev. Henry Ward Beecher was resumed to-day. Promptly at eleven o'clock, all parties concerned being present, the cross-examination of plaintiff was continued. He said: I bought the Lewellyn Park lots by the piece-meal, and paid for them by advertising in the Independent; I cannot remember how long my contract was in the Independent; when I gave Moulton my wife's letter on the 30th of December, it was not to be used unless for the purpose of

should he refuse to grant me the interview; the letter was not written for the purpose of being used in this way; the object of that interview was to protect Elizabeth from any publicity growing out of the controversy between Bowen and Beecher; I was not afraid that Beecher would give publicity to their relations. I received two notes from Bowen, one from him as publisher of the Independent, and the other as President of the Brooklyn Union Association, notifying me of my engagements being annulled; I went down to see Moulton about these letters; Moulton was not there, and I sat down to write an answer to Bowen; Moulton came in and we had an interview, which continued until we went out into the street; when I first saw Moulton I didn't invite him out of doors; I do not think I walked the street for many hours that night; I began to prepare the letter of January 1st to Mr. Bowen on the previous night, and it was finished the next day; there was nothing in that letter about Beecher's relation to Mrs. Tilton or myself; all that was designedly left out; Mr. Robinson advised me to say nothing about it, and following his advice, I took out of the letter certain

Fiery Phrases.

I showed the letter to Mr. Ford on Sunday morning when I was writing it; the letter was not then in a completed state, but the essence of it was the same as it is now; he did not advise me to strike out any portion of it; I did not know that Ford stood in the relation of trustee to one of the ladies referred to in my letter to Bowen; there was no word of disparagement of my wife in the original draft of this letter, and never for one moment thought of introducing her in it; on one of the first days in January I handed this Bowen paper to Moulton as soon as a copy was made of it; when I gave this letter to Moulton I did not express my desire to have a settlement with Bowen; before this I gave Moulton a note and told him I wanted my affairs with Bowen settled as soon as possible; I asked him at this time to be one of three arbitrators to settle; I do not remember their having chosen other arbitrators; he desired me to commit the whole case to his care, and I gave him the power in consequence of his request. [Handed a letter.] This is in Moulton's handwriting, and is a copy of the power of attorney which I gave to Moulton; I put three papers in Moulton's hands on the 1st of January, to wit: my letter of authorization to him, my contract with the Independent and my contract with the Brooklyn Union; I do not remember the date of Moulton's first interview with Bowen, but it was about the 1st of January; Moulton reported to me that Bowen Wanted an Arbitration.

I was also in favor of arbitration, but Moulton prohibited it; the actual arbitration was held on the 20th of April, 1872, I think; I do not remember speaking to Bowen from the time I left him in the office of the Union in 1870, until some time in 1872; Mrs. Tilton was informed of my interview with Bowen on December 26th, but she only knew of them in the light of business relations; Mrs. Tilton knew that if Bowen and I drove Beecher out of his pulpit that all the world would know the cause; it was on account of Mrs. Tilton's anxiety and solicitations that I had an interview with Beecher; Mr. Moulton went to Florida after his serious illness, its culmination being about the 1st of January, and his recovery was very slow; he carried on his business, however, on his sick bed, like a General in his tent; the designs of Moulton and his labors were for the purpose of keeping the matter of the scandal secret.

I never suspected Beecher of giving Mrs. Woodhull any of their secrets, nor did I suspect Moulton, as he was above suspicion. When I went to see Mrs. Woodhull in May, 1871, she mentioned to me nearly all the which she published in November, 1872. At that time she did not give me any of her authorities. I had not any thought that the words "eminent teacher" mentioned in her statement would be understood to mean Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. The card itself did not carry that impression to my mind, but her threat to publish the names terrified me. Perhaps a small, narrow circle in Brooklyn might have known, but not the general body of the public. I presume that a small circle enlarges and increases by degrees. I think the information was obtained by Mrs. Woodhull individually from the lips of Mrs. Nathan B. Morse. The stories went from her lips alone, and not from mine, Mr. Moulton's, or Mr. Beecher's. When I spoke of this story I Never Spoke to Mrs. Tilton's Disparagement, but I did to Beecher's and if it had not been for Mrs. Tilton's protection, I would have allowed him to go to destruction four years ago; never had confidence with Henry Ward Beecher in my life. I was under no obligation to keep a secret with reference to Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. I selected whom I would speak to on the subject, and told them what I saw fit. It was from that the story came to Mrs. Woodhull, and I told Mrs. Morse the story at the same time. When I told her I knew she would tell the whole world.

The laughter which this answer provoked irritated Judge Neilson, and he said if the laughter was continued he would adjourn the Court, as it caused serious interruption to the proceedings.

The witness then continued: Up to this time I don't know that Moulton made any effort towards a settlement of my affairs with Bowen. I never took any advice as to the collection of my claims against Bowen, but I did take legal advice as to the legality of my contract with Bowen, and whether they were worth seven thousand dollars. The penalty of breaking contracts was half the salaries and half the percentages which went to make up the seven thousand dollars. Did not take any advice as to Bowen's defence against the payment of this money, for he had no defence.

Bowen Was Anxious for Arbitration on account of the storm which had been raised on account of the stories against Beecher. I never saw Bowen from the period when I left his service in 1870 until he paid me in settlement of my claims in 1872. I got Bowen's notes for five hundred dollars, which was not for my salaries, but for shares of the Brooklyn Union which he took from me, and other business dealings. In August or September I had a difference with Bowen about supporting a certain political candidate, which I refused, and he said there was one way in which he could become master of this paper, and I replied that there was only one. I refused to submit to his wishes and support this mandate, and told him that under the contract I was master of the paper. This was the only difference I had with Bowen for about fifteen years. The last time I saw Mrs. Woodhull was in April, 1872, at which time she designed to villify and blacken the names of several ladies connected with the woman's suffrage movement. This article was the one. I knew all the ladies more or less whom she designed to attack. I saw Mrs. Woodhull when I was acquainted with her very often, sometimes at her house and often at her office. I saw her also at my house, think three times, and also at Moulton's. I remember going down to Cony Island with her, but did not bathe with her. I remember Mrs. Woodhull and her husband coming to my house on a Saturday evening, where she stopped all night and part of Sunday. I never remember being in water with her, though she always kept me in this affair. I never remember showing her any documents relating to Beecher. I do not know where Mrs. Woodhull got her reference to the "Catherine Gaunt" letter sent me by my wife. I never talked with her about it; never showed her the letter; she never got this information from me, but must have got it from other persons, as I never stated it to her. I remember being in a Communist procession in New York. I was not there with Mrs. Woodhull, but was there with my friend, John Swinton, with whom I walked arm in arm. I did not know until the procession was over that Mrs. Woodhull and her party were there. That procession was in honor of young Rossel, who was put to death by the French Government. I do not know that he was executed for the murder of the Chief Justice of France and the Archbishop of Paris. I considered that he was a pure young man and martyr, and I honor him. I did not carry a banner on that occasion; but if I had, I would have considered it an Honor That No Man Need be Ashamed Of.

"Tit for Tat"

In Hot Water

I may have gone once or twice with Mrs. Woodhull to Cony Island, and went once rowing with her and her husband on the Harlem river. I do not know if this was on Sunday.

Mr. Evarts here intimated that the hour for recess had arrived.

Judge Neilson said he had just received a note telling him that yesterday parties standing behind the jury were making observations about the case in their hearing. The Judge admonished the parties, and directed the Court officers to let him know if such thing occurred again.

Mr. Evarts suggested that the space behind the jury box should be kept free from spectators, and the Court gave an order to that effect.

A recess was then taken.

After the recess Tilton again resumed the witness stand, and Chester Carpenter, foreman of the jury, rose, and stated that no conversation about the case had ever taken place in the hearing of the jury, and that the communication referred to before the recess was an unjust reflection upon them.

A long discussion here ensued upon the introduction of the counsel for the defense wishing to show that Tilton had presented this letter before the church committee as the letter from his wife, when in reality it was not the letter of his wife, as there were several omissions, making a great change in the sense.

Tilton, in reply to Mr. Evarts, said: The Catherine Gaunt letter I sent over to a newspaper office to be lithographed; but whether it was lithographed or not, I do not know. [Shown a number of letters.] I recognize these as in the writing of Mr. Maverick, but there is nothing to indicate that these contain anything of the Catherine Gaunt letter. After the original statement was published I examined my manuscripts, and found some errors in it, and also something omitted. My impression is that there were some omissions in the print of the Catherine Gaunt letter. These omissions did not strike me as important with the truthfulness of the letter.

Mr. Evarts read a copy of the letter in question, which was dated the 29th of June, 1871, explaining that through the reading of Catharine Gaunt her eyes had been opened, and she had seen her sin. She saw now, as never before, the wrong she had done him, and asked his pardon. She felt prepared to renew her marriage vow with him, and never before had she felt like this.

At this point of the reading an argument was raised by the counsel for the plaintiff as to the correctness of the copy of the letter written by Maverick and read by Evarts.

The witness said he had every reason to believe that the papers from which the letter was read by Evarts was Mr. Maverick's copy which he handed to the investigating committee. The original letter I kept myself. Said the witness: I carried to the committee all of Mrs. Tilton's letters, but they objected to the reading of them on the ground that it would take too much time, and Mr. Winslow was appointed a committee to examine and read these letters. This letter was not read before the committee.

Mr. Evarts here continued the reading of the letter in question until its finish. The words omitted were "I stand upon the sure foundation that my feet are planted on the rock of this great truth."

Witness then continued: I wrote a letter to Senator Carpenter for Mrs. Woodhull on the Fourteenth amendment.

The Biography of Mrs. Woodhull was written by me in September following my visit in May of the same year to her. I thought I understood her heart and the workings of her mind towards society, but I was mistaken. I made the same mistake in regard to Beecher.

Mr. Evarts asked the witness to listen to what he should read, and state if that was his expression.

Mr. Beach objected to this, as it was quoted from the "Life of Mrs. Woodhull," and another argument ensued.

The Judge finally ruled to take the answer to this question.

Mr. Evarts read a portion of the preface to the "Life of Mrs. Woodhull," and asked the witness if he wrote that, and he replied that he wrote it in the month of September, three or four months after he became acquainted with her.

The portion of the letter read stated that he (the author) was going to narrate the life of a young woman, without color or time, who was an object of interest to her fellow citizens in her work of the greatest reform of the age, and a woman who had his (the author's) entire respect. Other portions of the work were read, the most part of them being recognized by the witness as being written by him, though, he said, they were the opinions and tenets held by Mrs. Woodhull.

The witness then resumed: After this publication of Mrs. Woodhull's life, I do not remember if 25,000 copies were sold. I could not give now from memory. I recollect that some person in the gallery tried to interrupt the lecturer, and I stepped forward and made some remark. I cannot say at what portion of her remarks that the disorder arose. I did not have slips of her speech in my hand while she was delivering it. I do not think that the card published in the World attracted any comment on my family or Mr. Beecher, and I do not think it attracted any attention. After this there were some publications in the World which pointedly referred to Mr. Beecher. No public attention was attracted to my family or Mr. Beecher by this card. I published the poem of in the Golden Age, with my name signed to it. One stansa of the poem referred personally to myself and the other also in a modified form. The whole poem expresses the broken hopes and blighted prospects of a disappointed man, whose every path might have led and kept in continued success. It was heedlessness on my part in bringing this poem before the public, and I never intended by it to cast any slur on my wife's name. Had I supposed that the publication of this poem would have injured Elizabeth, I would have before I would have published it. The same motive led me to publish it that leads me to publish everything that I write. I was absent on a political campaign when Mrs. Woodhull threatened to make her statement public. I never had any communication with Mrs. Woodhull since April, 1872.

Court adjourned.

MARDI GRAS.

The Carnival at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, February 9.—The Carnival today has been an immense success. From an early hour the principal streets have been one dense mass of surging humanity, intermixed with maskers representing everything conceivable in history and mythology. Never before has Memphis witnessed such a concourse of people, and never before was a city so completely given up to mirth and frivolity. The weather was clear, though a little too cool for comfort; but this did not deter those who had come to witness the festivities of the Carnival, and from early in the morning until nine at night the streets were filled with spectators, the lowest estimate being 50,000.

At three o'clock the Ulks, or Mischief Makers, under charge of the German Cassino, made their triumphant procession, which consisted of a splendid burlesque of everything animate and inanimate, from the unpaid policemen and life before the deluge to spirits of the "vasty deep," and a mixed school under the Civil Rights bill, which was greeted with shouts of applause as it passed along. But was the pageant of the "Memphi" at night, with the streets brilliantly illuminated with calcium and parti-colored lights, accompanied by three bands of music.

The first float or tableau, representing chivalry; scene: a mountain and cavern. A dragon lying partly in the cavern is slain by St. George, who, with drawn sword, is standing victoriously over him; a Christian in combat with a Moslem, who is slain in the contest. A female figure, typical of Christianity, grasping the cross and pointing to Heaven, surmounts the whole, surrounded by ten knights in complete armor.

Tableau second—A romance of chivalry; a bower, or summer house, approached by broad and graceful steps, with ornamental ballustrades, plants, flowers and vines. In the bower is a chevalier, richly dressed, with falcon perched on his hand. He is gazing upon a Castillian lady, who returns his look with tenderness. Midway on the steps is a troubador of a province striking the chords of a guitar, and hard by a Spanish cavalier in half armor, listening. Lower down is seen the quaint and grotesque figure of Don Quixote, in full armor; is seen ascending, reading with wonder and delight the romantic stories of Amadis De Gaul.

Float 3—Vision of Columbus; scene at Genoa, A. D. 1449. Columbus, aged 14, is seen asleep on a bank of flowers and shrubbery, and is visited by the spirit of the Memphi, who inspires him with the daring ambition of discovering America. The figure hovers over him, and points forward to America, typified by the figure of Atlanta, who is seen standing in a fanciful barque on the sea, holding in her hand a star and beckoning him on. Below the figure of the Memphi is seen the Spirit of Evil, "Typon," with bat-like wings, and menacing countenance, symbolical of the misfortunes which befell the discoverer.

Float 4—The vision continued; scene at Washington, A. D. 1875—the result of the discovery as exhibited in the present power and greatness of America, with representations of the Capital. Railways and steamships on the Potomac are seen in the background. The President is seen standing on the steps of the Capitol, between the statues of Prescott and Longfellow, who represent History and Poetry, while in the foreground are seen the Emperor of Brazil, the Japanese Embassador, and other foreign dignitaries.

Float 5—Columbus at Court; scene at Salamanca A. D. 1486, in the grand throne room, with medieval moresque architecture, with columns, arches, candelabra, &c. Characters: Ferdinand and Isabella, in robes of State, are seated on the throne, listening attentively to Columbus, now aged 50, who, with chart in hand, is expounding his theory of the earth's rotundity, and petitioning the Sovereign for authority and assistance to discover the western world. In attendance to the court are the Duke Medina Sedonia, commander of the armies of Spain; Gonzales de Mendoza, Grand Cardinal of Spain; Count Rivers, of England, and a page.

Float 6—The Last Sigh of the Moor; scene in the Alhambra, January 1st, 1492; the night before the surrender of Grenada. This float represented the hall of ambassadors, constructed of Arabian arcades of open filagree work, slender alabaster pillars, lofty ceilings of frostwork, and pensile ornaments, all delicate and graceful and of vivid colors. The characters represented Boabdil El Chico, an effeminate but brave Prince, the last of the Moorish Kings; his wife Morayma, a beautiful Moorish woman; his mother, the proud and haughty Ayxa La Hora; Yesef Aben Comixa, the Grand Vizier; Muzee, the warrior and hero, who refused to surrender, and Hamet Aben Zerraz, a Soulon, or Dervise, who accuses the King of treachery and denounces him with the vengeance of Allah.

Float 7—The fall of Grenada; scene January 2, 1442. A Moorish castle is represented in ruins. One or two arches in Morisco style are standing. The remainder of Grenada is a mass of smoking ruins. Gonzaulo De Cordova, with stained sword, elevating the standard of Castile and Argon, stands victoriously amidst the destruction; a Moresecno at his knees in the attitude of supplication; near by, a Moorish knight lying dead, and another wounded.

Float 8—How a world was won, or chess in 1492; scene at Santa Fe, in front of Grenada. A royal pavilion and grand stairway, parterre of flowers, royal and captured banners. Dramatic personae: King Ferdinand, seated, is engaged in a game of chess with Foresca, attached to his household; is about to lose the game, when Queen Isabella, by an unnoticed remark to the King, assists him to win, and takes the occasion to obtain the King's consent to the petition of Columbus as represented in Float 5. A servant of the royal party is ascending, bearing a fruit and wine ponce; De Leon, watching the game; Isadro, a pago, booted and spurred, is in the act of starting to bear the Queen's commands to Columbus granting his petition and creating him Admiral of the ocean sea.

Float 9—Embarkation of Columbus; scene at Polos De Mogner, August 3rd, 1492; the head of a pier or dock; a ship's boat of four oars riding on the waves. Characters: Fray Juan Perez, Superior of the Order of St. Dominec, with crozier blessing the expedition; near him, Martin Alonzo Pinzon, Commander of the Pinta, preceded by Vincent Young. Pinzon, Commander of the Nina, with the royal banner, in the act of entering the boat; Spanish, English and Irish seamen in the ship's yawl.

Float 10—Scene symbolical of the passage across the Atlantic; Neptune standing in a pearl and silver shell, grasping his trydent; is supported by four sea-gods, whose costumes and accessories simulate dripping water.

Float 11—Mysteries of the Deep; scene, a grotto under the sea, composed of coral rocks, shells, water lilies, marine plants, reeds, mosses, &c.; cuttle fish of large dimensions, with long antennae; a nautilius, or Portuguese frigate; fishes, etc., in motion, with a large turtle and two lobsters.

Float 12—Discovery of America; scene on board the ship Santa Maria, Friday, 2 A. M., October 12th, 1492. Characters: Columbus, in the foreground, is seen grasping the standard of Spain, looking towards the land; near him, a priest elevating the crucifix; Roderigo Frious, with a telescope to his eye; Pedro Guthereg, with arquebus, and two Spanish soldiers armed.

Float 13—Columbus in chains; scene in the Fortress of San Domingo, October, 1500. Characters: Boabdilla, Viceroy of Spain, ordering the disgrace of Columbus, now aged 65, who is being manacled by Espinoza. Don Diego, brother of Columbus, also in chains, stands by, guarded by a Spanish soldier.

Float 14—Death of Columbus; scene in Seville, A. D. 1506. The death chamber, Columbus, aged 71, lying on a couch, his physician watching over him; a priest of the Order of Jesus holds a crucifix before the dying man; his son Don Diego kneels at the foot of the bed, a Spanish lady praying and weeping; around the beds are candles burning, while escaping from the grasp of the dying man is his will, which, partially unrolled, displays the words "Prosecute my discoveries."

Float 15—De Soto in search of the Mississippi in the wilderness. This scene is located in Tishoming county, Miss., near the ridge called the Spanish Trail, and in the territory then occupied by the Chickasaws, and represents a wilderness with brushwood and cane, large holly and magnolia trees, from which is hung festoons of Spanish moss, with a combat between three Spanish soldiers, armed with arquebus, sword and hunting knife, and two Indians with bows and arrows. In the woods are seen a bear, wolf, serpent, alligator and eagle.

Float 16—De Soto discovering the Mississippi; scene: On the banks of the Mississippi, at Jackson Mound, near the present site of Memphis, with an Indian wigwam in the foreground. Dramatic personae: De Soto, in complete armour, mounted on a mailed and richly caparisoned steed. Standing on the mound, pointing to the great river near him, is Dues De Moscoso, with the banner of Hispania unfurled, a priest kneeling at the foot of a cross returning thanks, while an Indian stands by, gazing with wonder and amazement upon the scene.

Float 17—Seeking the Fountain of Youth. This scene represented the wilds of Arkansas, with a view of the hills and crags, and a volcano in the back ground, from which flows a waterfall; in front, a fountain, representing the Hot Springs, boldly rises, from which emerges a beautiful and airy female figure, who, by smiles and gestures, endeavors to seduce to his destruction a hoary alchemist, who stands amid difficult hills, surrounded by the instruments of his art, invented to find the philosopher's stone, the Fountain of Youth.

Float 18—Burial of De Soto; scene on the Mississippi, June 6th, 1492; a rude boat, with forest in the background. Two Spanish soldiers are depositing the bier of De Soto in the river, while two priests are officiating with cross and rosary, and two Spanish soldiers with torches stand by.

Float 19—Apotheoses of Columbus; scene characters—Columbus is seen transfigured amidst the clouds between Religion and the Sublime Aura, or Spirit of the Memphi, the former in the act of crowning him. Below the scene on the earth, the heroic figures of History and Poetry, recording and celebrating his immortal deeds, while cherubs, arrayed behind the tableau, are floating around the inscription "Farewell."

The effect of these tableaux as they moved through the streets was magnificent.

After the procession the Memphi gave a series of tableaux at the new Memphis theatre to their invited guests, representing the triumphs of Christianity, or a retrospect of Columbus witnessing the immortal events of his heroic life, and the victors and the vanquished, or Ferdinand and Isabella after the defeat of the Moors.

The Carnival at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, February 9.—The first celebration of Mardi Gras in Louisville took place to-day. It was a grand success in all respects. The procession was a magnificent scene of mirth, frivolity, buffoonery and enjoyment.

FIRES.

New York—Three Persons Burned to Death.

NEW YORK, February 9.—A fire broke out early this morning in tenement No. 763, Tenth avenue. Lewis Leary and two daughters were burned to death.

Brooklyn—Loss $550,000.

NEW YORK, February 9.—Samuel Furnwalt & Co.'s weaving establishment, Nos. 252, 254, 256 Water street, Brooklyn, was burned to-day. Loss on stock and building, $550,000; insurance not known. One hundred persons are thus thrown out of employment.

Hunter's Point, N. Y.—Three Officers Seriously Burned.

NEW YORK, February 9.—A fire in Fire Engine House No. 5 at Hunter's Point destroyed that building, a school house, and four neighboring buildings. Loss, $40,000; insurance, $4,500. Three officers were seriously burned while rescuing children. One child was fatally burned. The fire is supposed to be incendiary, and to have arisen from rivalry between the members of Engine Company No. 5 and another.

Steubenville, Ohio.

STEUBENVILLE, O., February 9.—The Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railway Company's storehouse and water tank at this place were destroyed by fire this morning. PARIS, February 9.—The Bishop of Strasbourg, having issued a charge to his clergy, in which he alleges that the Church is persecuted, the German authorities have seized the copies and forbidden the promulgation of the document.

LOUISIANA.

The Killed and Wounded for Opinion's Sake Since 1866.

NEW ORLEANS, February 9.—General Sheridan, in a note to Hon. Geo. F. Hoar, chairman, says:

"In response to inquiries of members of the Congressional Committee as to the number of persons killed and wounded in this State since 1865, on account of their political opinions, I have to state the number reported to date as follows: Killed, 2,141; wounded, 2,115; total, 4,256.

The Adjustment Resolution adopted by the Conservative caucus last night was delivered to Mr. Wheeler, of the Congressional Committee, this morning. If the committee deem it available, they will consider the matter in Washington and reply by telegraph. The resolution is not yet made public.

FORTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

Short Session of the Senate.

The Indian Appropriation Bill Passed by the House.

WASHINGTON, February 9, 1875.

SENATE.

The Arlington Estate.

On motion of Mr. JOHNSTON, the vote by which the bill referring to the Court of Claims the claim of J. W. Curtis Lee for the Arlington estate, was indefinitely postponed yesterday, was re-considered, and the bill placed on the calendar, with an adverse report.

Mr. JOHNSTON gave notice that he would address the Senate upon the subject at an early day.

Commissioner to the International Penitentiary Congress.

Mr. CAMERON, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported favorably on the joint resolution authorizing the President to appoint a Commissioner to attend the International Penitentiary Congress, to be held in Rome next year. Placed on the calendar.

Adjutant General's Department.

Mr. LOGAN, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported favorably on the House bill to reduce and fix the Adjutant General's Department of the Army. Passed.

Aid to Frontier Settlers.

Mr. INGALLS presented resolutions of the Kansas Legislature asking an appropriation by Congress of one hundred thousand dollars to aid settlers on the western frontier to purchase seed and for their support during the coming year. Referred.

Plate Glass.

Mr. MORTON presented a memorial of plate glass manufacturers in Indiana to the effect that that important branch of manufacturing interest ought to be encouraged by such tariff duties as will enable American manufacturers to successfully compete with foreign plate glass manufacturers.

Improvement of the Mouth of the Mississippi.

Mr. BOGY presented a memorial from the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce in favor of opening the Southwest Pass of the Mississippi, and remonstrating against the opening of the South Pass thereof. Referred.

Protest From West Virginia.

Mr. DAVIS (W. Va.) presented a joint resolution of the Legislature of that State protesting against Federal interference in the civil affairs of Louisiana, and made a few remarks endorsing them.

The President's Arkansas Message.

Mr. CLAYTON moved that the Senate take up the message of the President on Arkansas affairs, sent in yesterday, and refer it to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Mr. MAYARD hoped the order would not be made now, as the documents accompanying the message had not yet been printed, and a motion to refer would certainly lead to debate. He understood that it was the intention of the Senate to adjourn at one o'clock as a mark of respect to the late Senator Buckingham, and the motion to refer the message should go over for the present.

Mr. THURMAN said this was an exceptional case, and if anything could be demonstrated as fair it was that the message should go to the Judiciary Committee. As he had not time now to argue the matter, it being one o'clock, he moved that unfinished business, the Steamboat bill, be taken up.

The Vice President announced that the morning hour had expired, and the Senate would resume the consideration of the Steamboat bill.

Mr. FERRY, of Connecticut, moved that the Senate adjourn as a mark of respect to his colleague, Mr. Buckingham, whose funeral took place to-day.

Agreed to, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The Hennepin Canal.

After the passage of some unimportant bills and resolutions, and the presentation of a memorial praying for the restoration of the tax on sugar, the repeal of which had resulted in the loss of fourteen million dollars in gold to the Government without any reduction in price to the consumer, the Hennepin Canal bill, which was unfinished business from Saturday, was taken up.

Revision of Laws.

Mr. HURLBUT, who had charge of the bill, yielded the floor to allow Mr. Poland to present a privilege report from the Committee on Revision of Laws, which was considered at length.

After the passage of several bills an effort was made to get up the report from the Committee on Contested Elections, in the case of Mormon Cannon, but the House refused to consider it.

Pensions.

Mr. O'NEILL, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the Pension Appropriation bill, which was made the special order for to-morrow. It appropriates thirty million dollars.

The Indian Appropriation Bill was then taken up as in Committee of the Whole. All parts of the bill, except the Choctaw and Chickasaw amendments, were considered and agreed to.

Mr. PARKER (Mo.) offered a substitute for the amendment, providing that the amount shall be invested in bonds and held by the Secretary of the Treasury in trust for the Choctaw Nation until the individual claims of Indians are audited and certified, the interest meanwhile and that of any surplus to go to the support of Choctaw schools and Government, and no claims of attorneys, contractors or claim agents to be recognized or paid.

Mr. COMINGO, also a member of the Indian Committee, offered a substitute similar in substance to that offered by Mr. Parker, except that it forbids payment to any assignee, and requires it to be made to the individual Indian or his heirs. He explained the amendment, and said that it had been agreed upon by a sub-committee of the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Mr. FORT objected to all propositions, chiefly because if there was merit in it, it should be presented in an independent measure, and not as a rider to an appropriation bill, in which shape most of the objectionable measures of late years, including the Pacific Mail subsidy, had passed, and because it was for the benefit of attorneys and speculators. He knew one attorney who had a claim against it of $120,000 for fees, and there sat a man now in the gallery who had said within twenty-fours that he had taken stock in it to the amount of one thousand dollars. In fact, it was nothing but a pool and plaything that was kicked about from one end of the avenue to the other.

Mr. PARKER (Mo.)—Give us the name of that man?

Mr. FORT—I will give his name whenever a committee is appointed to investigate the matter, and I hope that one will be appointed. I know what I am talking about, and I am not to be frightened by the gentleman from Missouri (Parker.)

Finally the discussion closed, and the first question was on Mr. Comingo's amendment as a substitute for Mr. Parker's. It was rejected.

Mr. Parker's substitute for Mr. Loughridge's amendment was agreed to, and then the whole proposition was rejected—yeas 88, nays 137.

The next amendment was one to pay to the Chickasaws $280,000 arrears of interest on trust bonds held by the Government, and it was rejected without a division.

The bill was then passed—162 to 62—and the House adjourned.

THE LATEST NEWS.

Condensed Telegrams from All Quarters.

—The strike on the Grand Trunk Railway in Canada is at an end.

—The Boston Pilot states that the Pope has raised the dioceses of Boston, Philadelphia, Milwaukee and Santa Fe to the dignity of Archdioceses, and their respective Bishops to that of Archbishops.

—A careful estimate by an experienced lumberman gives the product of pine cut this winter on streams tributary to the Saginaw river, in Michigan, at 305,000,000 feet. This is a decrease of 36,000,000 compared with last year. It is estimated that the entire winter's crop on the east side of the State of Michigan will be ten per cent. less than last year.

—The Cincinnati Tobacco Board of Trade has adopted a series of resolutions expressing the belief that any advance of the existing tax on tobacco would prove injurious to all branches of the tobacco trade, that any additional tax would be unjust to both producer and consumer, and that as a measure to increase the revenue it would fail of its purpose. They also request all members of Congress in sympathy with the tobacco interests to prevent, if possible, any increase in the rate of taxation on tobacco.

Speech by Senator Carpenter.

MILWAUKEE, February 9.—Senator Carpenter delivered an address at the Academy of Music this evening. The hall was full at seven o'clock and hundreds were unable to secure admittance. The speaker referred briefly to his recent defeat, which he attributed largely to the opposition of railroads. He paid a high compliment to Mr. Cameron, the Senator elect, whom he knew to be a firm and consistent Republican. He reviewed at length the recent speech of ex-Senator Doolittle, and commented severely upon the recommendations of that gentleman for the abolition of the secret ballot and the establishment of an educational qualification in the South. In conclusion, he urged his friends to forget personal disappointments and remain true to the party.

FROM WASHINGTON.

"Governor" Garland's Contingent Fund.

Slavery at the Capital

The Tax on Whisky, Tobacco, Sugar and Molasses to be Increased.

Special to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, February 9, 1875.

Slavery in Washington.

A bill reducing the hours of labor of the conductors and drivers of Washington street cars to ten hours, has passed the House without opposition, and is now pending in the Senate. These poor creatures are compelled to work from sixteen to eighteen hours a day, for a paltry two dollars, not even being given time to eat, their meals being gulped by instalments during the two or three minutes' time at the end of each trip. The only relief these human machines have is in a restriction of the working hours by an act of Congress, and it is sincerely hoped by all humane residents of the National Capital that the bill will pass the Senate without a dissenting vote.

"Gov." Garland's Contingent Fund.

The National Republican throws out a hint in relation to "Gov." Garland, of Arkansas, in this manner:

"Gov. Garland, of Arkansas, has control of a contingent fund, amounting to $50,000. No intimation has yet been made that any portion of it has reached Washington, but there is reason to believe that it will be heard from in this vicinity before long. It is the old story over again of rascals plundering the people's treasury and using the money to protect themselves against punishment for their robbery."

Condition of the South.

The President continues giving special attention to the grievous condition of things in the South, and he expresses his determination to enforce the laws in that rebellious region with unmistakable emphasis. The last Cabinet meeting was occupied in discussing the situation in Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas, and the President is represented as commenting upon the rebellious portion of the people with that enthusiasm which characterized his war councils at the siege of Vicksburg. DIAMOND.

WASHINGTON, February 9, 1875.

The Tariff and Tax Bill.

The Committee on Ways and Means, today, reported a draft of the tariff and tax bill. It proposes to raise about $30,000,000. Should no modification of it take place before it is reported, the ten per cent. taken from duties, under the second act of June, 1872, will be restored. The articles thus to be effected are manufactured cotton, wools, iron and steel. Paper, books, India rubber, gutta percha, glass leather, &c., tea and coffee to remain free of duty, but sugars of all kinds are to bear additional duty. The tax on whisky and tobacco will also be increased. The committee will hold another meeting to perfect the bill.

Later.—The majority of the committee decided that sugar and molasses can bear an additional duty of twenty-five per cent., and tobacco an increase of four cents per pound; that matches should be relieved from tax, and that the tax on spirits should be increased fifteen cents a gallon, operating upon all now on hand, but that thirty cents should be imposed on all spirits manufactured after the passage of the bill, and the stamp on bank checks to cease at the end of this year. These changes will be incorporated in the bill.

Printing National Bank Notes.

The House Committee on Appropriations to-day came to a decision regarding the printing of national bank notes, namely, that two impressions of three should be made outside of the Treasury Bureau of Printing and Engraving by the bank note companies. The Committee on Banking and Currency have not yet made their report on that subject.

INTELLIGENCE from Philadelphia is to the effect that the Board of Trade of that city refused to endorse the memorial looking to the defeat of the Free Pipe Line bill. This is an indirect endorsement of the bill, and will strengthen it in the Legislature.

IT is hard to say what may or may not be done at Harrisburg this winter in the way of arranging things for the canvass next fall,—but a report comes to us that Hon. Butler B. Strang is the latest choice for State Treasurer, rather than Hon. John Allison. We doubt if the latest love is the wisest.

THE utter unreliability of Phelps, considered as a Republican, seems to surprise some of our friends. It need not. Beside being a New York Tribune disciple, he is making fair weather with the Democrats, in the hope that they will give him his seat in the next Congress under a contest he will make. He is deluded with the idea that by crawling in the mire before them they will take pity on his aspirations.

IT becomes increasingly evident that no human power, save the Democratic party, can quiet the agitation in Louisiana, and that party does not desire it settled. It is kept alive for purposes of political capital, at the ensuing elections. The evidence of this is now too clear for doubt. The arrangement for a compromise of difficulties was agreed to, in advance, by Wiltz, as well as Kellogg and Antoine. Yet while Kellogg and Antoine stood up to their agreement, both Wiltz and McEnery broke from it and denounced it in bitter terms. It is perfectly evident that they do not, and did not, mean to accept a compromise, unless it gave them all they asked. With less than this they refuse to be satisfied,—all this that they may keep their complaints before the country. If they make by these tactics, we will be deceived.

THE Democracy have nominated a full city ticket, to offer their friends a chance to vote at the ensuing election, and then make a contest for the offices afterward. C. Magee, Esq., who ran for Judge of the Orphan's Court, last year, and was defeated, is the candidate for Mayor. He is a clever little fellow, and can fight for the office of Mayor as well as any one else not entitled to it. Our old friend and whilom contestant for the Mayoralty, John B. Guthrie, Esq., looms up as a candidate for Controller. Frank Plunkett, Esq., will try his fortunes for City Treasurer. N. P. Sawyer, whose memories of Andy Johnson's Presidential term, when he managed the patronage for that individual hereabouts, could not refuse the opportunity to have Andy "endorsed." A resolution to that effect was, consequently, brought forward and adopted. Thus were the performances of yesterday begun and ended.

THE general interest manifested by all departments of the city government in attending the funeral obsequies of ex-Mayor Blackmore, attests the kindly and respectful feeling cherished for him and his memory. His decease occurred so soon after the expiration of his term of office, that it seemed very like dying in office. Thus all the honors that would have been paid the memory of a Mayor actually dying while yet in office, have been cheerfully accorded him. We think this but attests the general respect felt for the deceased Mayor. As a man, he was affable, kindly and gentle; courteous to all, modest and retiring in manner, he drew to himself hosts of friends who cherished him in good and evil report. As an official, he leaned ever to the side of mercy, and tempered justice with leniency. His term, even had he been in full vigor of strength, would have been signalized by a display of the kindlier traits of human nature, and not by stern exhibitions of power. As it was, he was the victim of perplexity and disease, and unable to hold the reigns of power with a firm hand. He thus gently and unobtrusively closed the years of his official and mortal career. In all the round of his wide acquaintance, we know of none who do not sincerely mourn his death.

CONTEMPTUOUS CONGRESSMAN.

William S. King has a delightful home in the suburbs of Minneapolis, Minnesota, is a fancier of fine stock, possessed of large wealth, reputedly, and was and possibly is popular in his Congressional district among all classes. He was considered an exceptionally strong candidate when nominated by the Republican party last Summer, and was voted for by many Democrats and triumphantly elected. He is a shrewd politician, having all the qualities that are supposed to belong to the typical article, is smooth, suave, non-committal, quick to detect the views and leading wishes of those with whom he comes in contact, an easy, fluent conversationalist, and ever ready to touch the smooth side of all. In face, he is full, pale, clean shaven, and but for a cold, egotistical and even hypocritical look about the eyes, would be attractive, even to close observers of human nature. As it is, he is well adapted to make his way among men, being evidently quick to discern the weak points of others, and shrewd in withholding his own from sight.

His election inspired the largest expectations among his constituents that he would make a useful, energetic Congressman, particularly efficient in obtaining appropriations for the improvement of streams and harbors in the Northwest. Before his election he had secured considerable appropriations for the improvement of St. Anthony falls, the St. Croix river, and several points and harbors on Lake Superior. Even where Congressmen and Senators failed, he succeeded. Hence large expectations were indulged, that as a member of Congress he would be still more influential and successful. That his capabilities in the directions named are great, the history of his associations with Pacific Mail amply illustrates Pending the operations of Irwin in behalf of subsidy King was Postmaster of the House, and in a position to become promptly familiar with any monetary operations that might be going forward. The evidence thus far shows that he was shrewd enough to obtain $125,000 from Irwin. This was, next to the sum received by Schumacker, the largest amount paid any one person. What the committee wishes to know is,—was this money, or any portion of it, used to corrupt members. Schumacker couldn't remember as to the use made of the $300,000 he received, and it is now solicitous as to King's money. There are two difficulties in the way of his testifying. One is, that he has already been examined on the subject, and testified that no money was paid by him to members of Congress. This subject will be pressed very closely if he is brought before the Committee, and he is particularly anxious to avoid all such inquiries. If he made no use of the money, (which we believe to be the case) in the interests of the subsidy, the Pacific Mail Company will be very sure to prosecute for its recovery, and it will not be easy for him to raise the amount these times. Thus complications beset him on either side.

In the meantime he is a disgraced man. His prevarication and evident effort to avoid the presence of the Committee have served to give prominence to his course, and to fasten on him the suspicion that he, of all others is the corrupt man, in the subsidy transaction. The Legislature of his State has called upon him to testify or resign, and the Investigating Committee has reported him in contempt. He is thus practically branded as a criminal, and will be very sure to be arrested by the Democracy, if he does not clear himself of the imputations against him. He has not acted with his usual shrewdness in this matter, and has, thus, already complicated his influence and prospects. His only way out of his present situation is, to come before the Committee, and by statements that shall be evidently true, free himself, if he can, of all suspected criminality in the matter.

In the meantime we are gratified at the rigid course pursued by the Committee. King is a Republican, and for this reason, we desire that he shall be rigidly treated. The Republican party has ever prided itself on its refusal to shield members of its organization, when in the wrong. The case of King comes clearly within the scope of this policy. He will work it greater harm, if allowed to escape, than all his influence, hereafter, can do it good. He will go into the next Congress, if at all, a tainted man. His party in Minnesota and the country cannot afford this. We trust, therefore, that the most rigid measures will be taken to secure his presence and testimony. These obtained, and he must either clear himself of suspicion, or bear, alone, the weight of his own guilt. Schumaker, the Democrat, falls beneath contempt. That he lied to the Committee is not doubted. Just what his falsehood covers will not probably be known. He was either treacherous to his employers, taking money for which he did not render an equivalent, or he used a portion of the money to bribe votes. His assumed lack of memory necessarily puts him in his position. But King is not forgetful, and hence he must tell the truth or stand condemned.

THE LAPSING DAYS.

Congress cannot be too profoundly impressed with the importance of redeeming time, for the days are few in which to accomplish very much. We fear that body is not duly impressed with the value of its labors, or the influence of its lack of efficient service. We fully believe that assuming the Democracy will be reasonably prudent, the fate of the Republican party depends on the work done by Congress during the next three weeks. The situation needs to be directly faced, and carefully considered. Affairs at the South, which Congress has weakly refused to manfully face for two years past, has cost the Republican party the votes of States casting 123 out of the 138 votes to which the formerly slaveholding States were entitled. Dissatisfaction with the situation at the South doubtless had its effect also on the Northern States. But the absurd financial vagaries of Congress at its last session had broken the strength of the party in the Eastern States, so that while New England, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania are entitled to 113 electoral votes, only sixteen, those of Maine, Vermont and Rhode Island, remained assured by the latest elections. Finally, the continued neglect of Western interests, particularly in the matter of transportation and river improvement, the lack of a clear and honest financial policy, and the unsatisfactory condition of the South, had combined to defeat the Republican party in its Western stronghold; and of the one hundred and fifteen electoral votes remaining, only forty-eight—from Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, and Nevada—were still assured by the latest elections. Thus two States in the South, three in the East, and seven in the West, with only seventy-nine electoral votes in all, remained adhering to the Republican cause. This is not a particularly cheerful outlook.

We do not assume that what has occurred affords absolutely reliable data for estimating future results, yet there must be definite reasons for expecting changes, if the morale of the party is to be restored. The defeat of 1862 was followed by a fervor of patriotism, but this can hardly be looked for, as a specialty now. There are at least two subjects which need the most vigorous attention from Congress, and if the right course is taken, we believe much will be done to restore party success. The South should be properly dealt with, in a spirit of fairness to the whites, but of rigid repression of lawlessness. We are not disposed to dictate here, but our view is that legislation that will strictly enforce the legal rights of the people, and repress lawlessness will do much toward pacifying the South.

The second matter is that of Western improvements. While we attach no importance whatever to the finance bill passed by Congress, believing it will work no advantage to the finances of the country, yet we accept it as intended to meet the views of Eastern capitalists. President Grant has fallen entirely into their way of thinking and the force of his administration goes that way. Hence, the finance bill was passed in the interest of the East. They have also had large concessions made them at the East in the modification of the customs laws. We are well persuaded that the loss of the Government, in customs revenue is, to some extent, the gain of the importer. This being true, we submit that the West, now the stronghold of Republican strength, should be considered. What we ask is definite and clear. It is, that our water-ways shall be improved, and that the Texas and Pacific railroad be aided. In the improvement of water-ways, we insist that the Ohio deserves to be first considered, with Pittsburgh as a starting point.

We cannot avoid the conclusion that Pittsburgh interests have been seriously overlooked by Congress, these many years. Either we have not been represented with sufficient vigor, or our forbearance has been too largely counted upon. We have poured into the national treasury of our wealth, entirely out of proportion with the direct benefits received. We send, from this county, two members to Congress, and until the recent election, they have been uniformly Republicans. It has given over 12,000 majority, at times, earning from President Lincoln the title of "State of Allegheny." It has large possibilities of improvement and growth, and the Ohio naturally and properly comes first in any general system of river improvements. Yet we see no special indication that Congress even intends to do anything for this point, of any moment. Thus are we trifled with.

So of points farther West. Unless there shall be interest taken in their welfare commensurate with that manifested toward the East the Republican party may look for trouble in that quarter. What has been done for the East the West will willingly assent to, if it receives what it believes it is entitled to demand,—a beginning toward a general and comprehensive system of river improvement. We have included the Southern Trans-Continental Railroad for the reason that from Pittsburgh to Texas there is a direct and earnest interest in that subject. Here, it will benefit our iron industries and restore prosperity. In Louisiana, it will contribute to the pacification of political troubles. In the region of the Southwest, it will develop the resources of the country, and inspire contentment and harmony among the people. All these things will work, not merely to the advantage of the country, but of the Republican party as well. Congress has great opportunities to render the country and the party service of incalculable value,—will it be equal to the occasion?

Next day the lady received a note containing $1,500 from Mr.——, and the postscript read: "Persevere in your noble work. This was succeeded by numbness in the hand, alternating with excruciating pains. The unfortunate man rapidly grew worse until his death occurred. The theory of the attending physician is that the cork was impregnated with poison and that the knife in passing through conveyed enough into the wound to cause death.

SHARKS.

Their Abundance in Southern Waters.

A letter from N. H. Bishop, who is endeavoring to make the voyage to the Gulf of Mexico in a paper canoe, has been received in Troy. It is dated at Georgetown, South Carolina, January 26, and contains the following: "The windy and rainy weather still continues. I must paddle down Wuivah bay ten or twelve miles, which, with Bull's bay, between here and Charleston, are the most exposed points for rough weather during a blow. I hope to leave here within two days, and pass through Mosquito creek, the ditches of a rice plantation on the coast, and use both the North and South Santee rivers for a short distance to get into Alligator creek, which will take me behind Murphy's Island into Bull's bay. The course from Bull's bay to Charleston will be through interior water coming up to the city itself. I expect to cross the upper part of the harbor to the marshes on the south side, where I will find the passage leading to port Royal and to Savannah. It would not be a pleasant experience to capsize my fifty-eight pound canoe in Charleston harbor, unless one has as strong a taste for sharks as sharks have for the genus homo. Steamboats on the northern rivers troubled me very much. They frequently run down boats. The shoals of Albemarle and Pamlico Sounds next bothered me. At Hatteras the porpoises came nearer to my oars than even ichthyological etiquette allows. Next, the sharp bills of the oyster reefs, in the narrow and shoal water courses in the marshes of Stump, Topsail Middle Sounds, as I approached Cape Fear, sorely tried my patience. Now the sharks in the semi-tropical water will give me their share of attention. As for alligators seven of them followed dogs and a wounded deer across a water course which I crossed during a warm spell of weather, but they are now bedded in the swamps hibernating. It is always a pleasure to meet a good-sized alligator if your rifle carries an ounce ball; but sharks are treacherous and ugly playmates. One of my friends had an oar bit in pieces by one of those savage fellows; and a party of Hatteras fishermen, while out chasing 'finbacks' inside of Diamond Reef, were attacked by a number of sharks, the fishermen's oars being damaged by the teeth of the fishes. I expect to pass Charleston in the course of a week. Having completed about fourteen hundred miles of rowing and paddling since I left the Gulf of St. Lawrence, it will not take many weeks to paddle over the remaining portion of my journey to the Gulf of Mexico if the weather becomes settled and propitious."

A STARTLING MANIFESTATION.

A Materialized Spirit Has His Head Damaged and is Unable to Recover the Spiritual State.

Until lately spiritual manifestations have not been satisfactory in San Francisco. Mediums have explained that the spirits found the process of materialization more difficult in that climate than any other part of the world, owing to the peculiar conditions of the electric element; but it was predicted that the heavy rains of the present Winter would have the effect of harmonizing the antagonistic principles, and ere long the spirits would be enabled to make themselves seen and hold converse, face to face, with their beloved friends on earth. A little while ago, however, it became bruited about that the spirits had actually succeeded in materializing, through the magnetic forces possessed by an ameteur medium, and quite a rush was occasioned to witness the marvelous phenomena, at the usual charge of one dollar each. In the room in which these manifestations occurred, was a large clothes closet, extending nearly to the ceiling, which was appropriated as the indispensable cabinet. Ghostly faces appeared at the round hole which had been cut in the front of the cabinet, and were distinctly seen by the dim light maintained, while strange voices were heard, as if proceeding from the air, conveying messages of varying import to those present. But much of this valuable information related to points on the stock market, which the spirits explained was owing to uncontrollable sympathy with the medium, whose mind was deeply absorbed with stock matters. It was finally announced that the familiar spirit of the medium was preparing for full materialization, and would emerge from the cabinet in complete form as in life. This startling exhibition was appointed for Sunday evening, and the familiar spirit was understood to be a young Indian warrior, who had inhabited that part of the world at some remote period of antiquity. The company was found to be excellently chosen for obtaining a perfectly magnetic influences, and after the medium had taken his position in the cabinet and relapsed into the customary trance, weird and shadowy faces shortly flitted before the round hole in the door. The company sung successively a number of favorite songs, and at each interval watched anxiously for the opening of the cabinet and the appearance of the expected materialized spirit. They had just renewed the sweet, persuasive influence, and were singing the touching ballad of "The Poor Old Slave," with much feeling, when suddenly the harmony was dispelled by a sharp cracking, followed by a crash and the descent of a heavy body into the midst of the circle, knocking several of the members prostrate, and producing a sensation similar to that experienced at the critical instant of a steamboat explosion or railroad collision. A good part of the company made a bolt for the point of egress, and dashed down three flights of stairs without tarrying to inquire the origin of the shock; others were petrified with mortal terror, and retained their seats; while one or two of the most daring proceeded to determine the precise character of the phenomena. The light was restored, and the strange visitor was discovered lying on the floor, with splintered laths and fragments scattered about him. It was the medium's familiar spirit. The Indian warrior completely and most palpably materialized. He was bleeding profusely at the nose, and was in sore distress from a concussion of the abdomen, caused by the falling across the head of one of the company in his sudden descent. As soon as the unfortunate savage could recover his breath sufficiently to articulate between his groans and profane ejaculations of the most modern construction, he exclaimed beseechingly, "Sam, go for the nearest Doctor; get Stivers." By this time the medium had recovered consciousness, and, emerging from the cabinet in evident chagrin and dismay, he remarked pathetically, while gazing at an enormous rent in the ceiling overhead, "What made you step between the posts; this has just bust the whole business."

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Thirty-two Persons Imprisoned by Fire in the Bowels of the Earth.

What threatened to be a terrible accident occurred on the 3d inst., at the Osage Company's Coal Mines, Osage City, Kansas. While twenty-nine men and three boys were at work in the mines, a fire broke out and spread so rapidly that for a time it seemed as though there was no hope of saving the imprisoned miners. The severe cold had dried up all the wells in the neighborhood and water was scarce. While the wives and children of the apparently doomed men were weeping and wringing their hands in anguish and despair at the mouth of the shaft, a man, named William Marks, stepped forth from the grief-stricken crowd and announced his intention of going down the shaft in search of the party. He ordered those near him to fasten a rope under his arms and let him down into the mine. This was quickly done, and amid the volumes of thick smoke the man descended on his noble mission. Once in the mine he searched for signs of the men whose lives he had risked his own to save. He found a solid wall of slate and dirt thrown up across the main entry. Shouting at the top of his voice he made himself heard by the imprisoned miners, and the barricade was soon removed. Marks then found himself face to face with the objects of his heroic action, and quickly informed them of their peril and of the prospect of escape. Meanwhile the crowd at the mouth of the mine had succeeded in getting a little water, which they quickly poured down the shaft, thus reducing the smoke, and one by one the men were hauled from their terrible position to air and life.

Thirteen Lawyers at Work for Beecher, Besides his Sons.

Mr. Beecher's sons are working very hard in his behalf, and every day are with some of the younger counsel searching out testimony and perfecting plans outside of the court room. Henry Beecher, Jr., is a smart young insurance agent in Court street, Brooklyn, and during the trial he intrusts his business to his brother Herbert, and joins with his brother William in helping the lawyers. Mr. J. L. Hill, General Tracy, and Mr. P. Keady are busy all of every day, outside of the court, with different branches of the case, and it is asserted by one who is in Mr. Beecher's employ that six lawyers whose names have not been made public are at work for him—making thirteen in all. General Tracy is committing his opening speech to memory, and is waiting patiently to be called into the court-room to deliver it. The defense have a long list of witnesses, and the working lawyers outside of the court-room are learning specifically what each can testify to. They pass the result of their work into Mr. Shearman's hands, who has his clerks trained to arrange the matters to a nicety, and the result will be that the facts for the defense will be woven strongly together, and made to tell to good advantage.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, February 10, 1875.

The severe weather of yesterday perceptibly restricted business operations of all kinds. The disposition on all sides was to appear as little as possible, and at the banks callers were exceeding few. Other than this there was nothing of special interest. There are indications of a more active real estate market ere long, and of improved activity in general business. A singular showing is that of R. S. Dun & Co., that the business failures in 1874 were but few more than in 1873, while the aggregate amount represented in the failures is really less Thus, in 1873 there were 5,183 failures, representing $228,449,000, while in 1874 there were 5,830 failures, representing $155,209,000. Referring to the prospects of business, the circular says:

We are conscious that there is much in the past year to discourage, and, seemingly, to delay a return to a healty condition of trade. Prices for many products have materially declined, large losses have been submitted to, and sales have been largely restricted. Those cases are rare in which the surplus in business has been much increased as the result of the year, while the cases are numerous where parties have barely held their own; and many, if they honestly look their affairs in the face, must admit a loss.

Yet, if, as we have tried to show, the cause for the depression of the trade of the country is to be found in the enforcement of economy and the reduction of indebtedness, more than in disaster or loss of wealth-producing power, surely we should not quarrel with what in individual cases would be so commendable; if that depression, liquidation, and restriction of business has been submitted to without serious disaster, surely there is ground for hope that in the near future there is not only safety, but a gradual and sure improvement in the character, extent and profitableness of legitimate trade. There may be causes at work to defer and indefinitely postpone this improvement, but it is difficult to discover and enumerate them. Unwise legislation may retard it, some sudden quirk in the currency may interfere with it, but they were never less probable than now. Behind all these and other imaginary misfortunes, there is satisfaction in realizing that we have got through a trying year without serious calamities; that that year has been one of great abundance in much that most largely contributes to a nation's wealth, and that the prospect for trade reveals many more encouraging than disturbing elements.

—The anthracite coal trade for the week ending on the 30th ultimo is without any special feature. It is in statu quo. Production in all the coal regions is at a very low point, and no movement seems to be making to give it impetus. The market supply is such that operators do not care to add to it, and those employed at the mines are very quiet, taking no step to bring their wages within what operators contend are necessary to meet the market demand for cheaper coal. Under this state of feeling no collieries in the Schuylkill and Lehigh regions are in operation, except such as are supplying local consumption. Nearly all the great carrying companies show a reduced tonnage on that of last year. That is, of the eleven principal sources of supply reported eight show a decrease and but three an increase. But for this shortened supply of coal there would necessarily be a material reduction in prices, if there were sales at all. The entire tonnage reported for the week ending on the 30th ultimo was 134,175, against 224,807 in corresponding week last year, and 1,205,894 for the new year, against 1,384,870 to the same date in 1874. The bituminous tonnage for the week is 36,766 tons, and for the year 124,687 tons, against 134,832 tons to corresponding date last year. The total of both kinds of coal for the week is 170,941 tons, and for the year 1,330,581 tons, against 1,519,702 tons to the same time in 1874, being a decrease of 189,131 tons. The quantity of coal and coke transported over the Pennsylvania Railroad for two weeks was 113,106 tons, and for the year 212,594 tons. Of this aggregate 170,299 tons were coal and 45,295 tons coke. This table embraces all the coal carrried over the road, both anthracite and bituminous, east and west.—Phila. Ledger.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Feb. 9, 1875.

While business cannot be by any means termed active, there is apparently a better feeling in commercial circles, and as soon as the present extreme cold weather has passed, there will doubtless be a revival in most branches of trade, for which there is abundant room. January was the dullest month our merchants generally have had for several years, and December was not much better; we are in hopes that this month will show an improvement upon last, and that next month will be better than this one.

APPLES—In light supply, and with a fair jobbing demand prices are well sustained, ranging from $2@3 ₱ bbl for fair to choice.

APPLE BUTTER—50@60c ₱ gal.

BEANS—Continues dull but prices are without quotable change; mediums, $1,75@1,80 ₱ bush; navies, $1,90@2.

BUTTER—There is a fair demand, especially for the finer grades, but the supply is ample, and prices remain unchanged; prime to choice rolls, 28@30c. Some few sales of gilt-edge reported at 31@32c, but dealers generally regard 30c as being the top of the market, and there are those who allege that it is difficult to obtain 28c, even for the best.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—3@3¼c ₱ lb.

CRANBERRIES—$10@12 ₱ bbl.

CHEESE—Prime Ohio Goshen, in a jobbing way, 16½@17; New York do, 17½@18.

DRESSED HOGS—8@9c ₱ lb.

DRIED FRUIT—There is a fair demand for Apples, but Peaches continue dull; former quotable at 7@8c and the latter at 8@9.

EGGS—The receipts of fresh have been light for some time, and the market is almost bare in consequence; quotable at 29@30c; pickled, 20@23c.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $5,40@5,50 for Wisconsins, and $5,50@5,60 for Minnesotas; winters, $5,60@5,90 for red and $6@6,25 for amber and white. Rye Flour $5,50@5,75.

GROCERIES—Coffee has come to a nominal price in consequence of the action of the Committee of Ways and Means in Congress refusing, by a decisive vote, to recommend a duty of 3 cents per lb—the result being a reduction in values and a nominal market. We look for lower prices on all grades of Coffee. It is not now probable that the tax will go either Coffee or Tea. Sugars—New Orleans dull at the point of purchase, though, as A. Thomson & Co.'s last circular states, we think that medium grades are at present a desirable investment. The receipts at New Orleans show a surplus, as compared with last year, as follows:

January 30— Hhds.	Barrels.	Half barrels.
18,027	28,029	1,162

—And Thompson & Co. say in the same circular that the quantity estimated to arrive during the balance of the season is twenty thousand to twenty-five thousand barrels of Molasses and 25,000 hogshead of Sugar. This is certainly a small stock to arrive for this season of the year, and should induce buyers to send in their orders to their New Orleans correspondents. Rice—steady. Syrups do. Teas dull.

GRAIN—The demand for Wheat continues light, in consequence of the depressed condition of the market for the product, but as there is not much offering, prices remain unchanged; Penna and Ohio red, $1,14@1,16 and $1,18@1,20 for amber and white. The Oat market is firmer, with continued light receipts, but dealers generally report that it is difficult to obtain outside quotations; mixed, 62@63; white, 64@65. There have been some sales recently at 65, but it is difficult to obtain over 64½, and buyers generally don't want to go above 64. Ear corn, in consequence of diminished receipts, is a shade firmer, and while quotations may be fairly given at 74@75, we heard of a sale of one car at 77 cents. Shelled continues dull, but unchanged at 73@75, as to quality—sale of prime yellow reported at 74, free in elevator. Rye continues scarce, and may be quoted steady at $1,10@1,12.

HAY—There is no improvement in the market for baled, which is overstocked, but prices are nominally unchanged, ranging from $18@22 ₱ ton, as to quality.

HOMINY—Is quiet and unchanged at $4¼ to the trade and $4,50@4,75 ₱ bbl. in a jobbing way.

MILL FEED—Bran continues scarce and in demand, with sales at $1,25 ₱ cwt; there does not appear to be much inquiry for heavy feed.

ONIONS—$3½@4 ₱ bbl.

POULTRY—In light stock and higher. Dressed Chickens, 13@14; Turkeys, 15@16; live chickens, 60 to 70c ₱ pair.

POTATOES—Peach Blows quotable at 78@80c ₱ bushel, on track by the carload, and 85@90 in a jobbing way from store.

PROVISIONS—The general tone of the market is weaker, under the influence of the advices from the west, but trade continues fairly active, and prices remain without quotable change. Following are the ruling rates:

Hams—Extra S. C. ₱ lb	13½	Lard—Prime Leaf in tierces, ₱ lb	14¼
Shoulders, Ex S. C.	10	Do., half barrels	15
B'fast Bacon, S. C.	11	Lard-Ref. for summer use in tierces
Dried Beef, Ex. Sugar Cured, old	15	Do., in ½ bbls

Carbon Oil	12½	Cheese, per lb	17
½ bbl Pigs Feet	4.00	Miner's Lard Oil	85
		¼ bbl Pigs Feet	2.00

PEAS—$1,90@2 ₱ bush.

RAGS—Quiet and unchanged; regular sales at 2½@3 cts for good mixed, woolen ½c ₱ lb.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is still quoted firm at $6,75@7 ₱ bushel. Timothy quiet at $2,35@3 to the trade and $3¼ in a jobbing way.

SWEET CORN—7@8c ₱ lb.

TALLOW—In improved demand at 7½@8 cents for good country rendered; city rendered firm at 8¾—some are holding city at 8⅞ to 9c. Sales of 20,000 lbs reported at 8¾c.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Feb. 9, 1875.

The market for both Crude and Refined has reacted slightly, and, as compared with Monday and Saturday, prices are a shade lower. The former, for immediate shipment, was quoted to-day at from $1,90@1,92½ per bbl at Parker, against sales yesterday at $1,97½@2. However, the feeling appears to prevail that the reaction will be but temporary, and that the market is not only likely to hold its own, but that prices will go still higher. There is no doubt but what the production is falling off, and it is also a fact that, even if there was a disposition, development could not be pushed forward with such weather as we have had for several weeks past; however, there is no getting over the fact that the stock in the hands of producers and tankers is unusually heavy, and but for this there is not much doubt but what prices would be much higher than they are. Refined is also weaker; Philadelphia delivery was quoted at 14½; there are no orders, we believe, for shipment to Baltimore in consequence of the scarcity of tonnage at that place, and we are without quotations, either for delivery on cars here or delivered in Baltimore.

The Barrel market continues exceedingly dull; countries, $1,05@1,10; city make offering at $1,25, without finding takers.

New York Breadstuffs Market—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The past week we have had a very sluggish and unsatisfactory Wheat market. The unfavorable advices from Europe have more than neutralized the rapid advance in gold. The limited supply of tonnage has been a further obstacle to an active export trade. The reduction in our stock has been light, and our exports, it will be seen, are limited, and we find the quantity now afloat for the United Kingdom from this coast is very small indeed, not exceeding 60,000 quarters, (480,000 bush); hence the depression at Liverpool and London in Spring Wheat is quite a surprise to us. If this was particularly true of White Wheat it would seem reasonable, as of this description their imports mainly consist. It is true their supplies from Eastern Europe are increasing but they are not of the quality required for mixing with the White Wheat from the Pacific coast; but our strong Spring Wheat is what is wanted to give the strength and consistency required to make good bread. From our latest French advices it is very apparent that the surplus of breadstuffs in France has been largely overestimated, and we find prices at the principal markets rule higher. The stock at Marseilles at the close of the year (1874) was unusually limited; the demand for the interior could not be filled, and the same is true of many Italian ports. The supplies from Germany have been more liberal, but not up to the early expectations of the trade. The future of Wheat depends so largely upon the quantity consumed for cattle food and the character of the weather during the coming Spring, that any opinion advanced at this time would not be entitled to much consideration. The crops in Chili and Australia have mainly been secured, more especially the latter, and the result is a favorable one. The prospects in California and Oregon for the growing crop were never more favorable. The growing crop of Winter Wheat in the old States is not uniformly well spoken of, but it is too early to express any opinion in regard to it. Farmers in the Middle States have parted with about half the last crop, and are not disposed to part with the balance at the prices generally bid. The exports of the week are only 64,324 bush., against 442,691 for the corresponding week last year.

Our Flour market the past week has been extremely tame and listless; most holders, in view of the limited production in the interior, the current high prices for Wheat at the mills, and the small offerings of Wheat by farmers, especially those in the Winter Wheat growing States, have shown great reluctance to make further concessions, but this has been imperative in order to close out large invoices. This is especially true of common Amber Winter Wheat Extras and Medium Wisconsin and Minnesota Extras. The trade have operated cautiously owing to the very limited retail demand, and the violent fluctuations in gold have exerted a very conservative influence, and jobbers as a rule will not purchase beyond their immediate wants, and seem determined to carry just as little stock as possible. It is plain to every intelligent dealer that the purchasing power of the country is less than in former years, and it cannot be denied that the production of Flour is excessive. A better business has been done in New Patent Process at the low prices which now prevail, but the low prices accepted for really good White Wheat Extras is an obstacle to a large trade and what may be called high priced Spring Wheat brands, and the same is true of all kinds of merchandise. The shipping demand for Europe has proved very moderate, and the trade from day to day has been very limited and unsatisfactory. We had confidently anticipated some revival of trade ere this, both domestic and foreign, but it is very plain we were premature in our expectations and wishes; not until the purchasing power of consumers is materially increased, can we count on a more healthy market and a more active domestic trade. A better export demand does not seem probable at an early day, as stocks in Great Britain are still quite large, and are not likely to be depleted very soon. Unfavorable weather for their crops, we think, would give a fresh impulse to their markets, and stimulate the export movement from this port. In City Ground only a moderate business has been done, for the West Indies mainly. Family Flour valued at $5,50@8 ₱ bbl., has only been in retail demand, and at variable figures. It is very plain that the consumption of high-priced Flour is greatly circumscribed, and they can only be sold in small lots as wanted. No. 2 and Superfine have been offered sparingly, but under a good demand prices have ruled quite firm. The exports of the week are only 28,874 bbls., against 43,049 the corresponding week last year.—Tribune.

Chicago Provisions Trade — Weekly Review.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—During the past week the market was quite active, and trading was liberal, both for present and future delivery. A firmer feeling was manifested for all descriptions, influenced at times to some extent by more anxiety on the part of speculative operators to provide for outstanding contracts. Orders were quite liberal, and the competition between purchasers led to the appreciation obtained in values at times. The increase reported in the exports from this country also had some influence in sustaining values. The shipping movement was not particularly active—the aggregate being below those of last week. Speculative trading was quite active, both in mess pork and lard, and prices were advanced on all options. There was an increased number of orders on the market, and the shipments were well distributed throughout the country. The receipts of country cured product was fair, and offered quite freely on the market. To-day there was only a moderate degree of activity noticeable in this market, and sales generally were reported at lower figures, though the feeling was quite steady at the reduction. The trading was mainly on speculative account, though a moderate demand existed for cash lots. The advices from other markets are rather unfavorable, and the packing to date exceeds that of last year. The stocks on hand are quite large of pork, but moderate of lard and meats.

The Chicago Daily Commercial Bulletin publishes the following table, showing the packing at points named to date, as compared with the corresponding time last year and the aggregate last season:

	To date. 1875.	To date. 1874.	Aggregate season. 1873-4
Chicago	1,451,725	1,433,028	1,520,024
Louisville	270,492	226,947	226,947
Indianapolis	280,000	255,000	295,796
Milwaukee	211,183	270,000	294,654
Cincinnati	487,127	458,940	581,253
St. Louis	375,000	445,000	463,793

PROGRESS OF PACKING.

Regarding the progress of packing, the Commercial Bulletin says: "The receipts of hogs were fair at all the leading packing centers during the past week, and a moderate week's work was reported. The quality of the hogs continue good and the average weight shows a further increase, while the yield of lard exceeds that of previous weeks. The aggregate packing of the West to date may be considered about 5,000,000 hog. Various conjectures are made regarding the receipts during the balance of the packing season."

Chicago Seed Market.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Timothy Seed met with a better demand, and the offerings being smaller the market ruled firm, with an appreciation of about 5c in values. Sales were made at $2,40@2,50 for fair to good, $2,52½@2,60 for prime; closed at about $2,60 for prime. Choice sold at $2.70, and $2,75 was paid for fancy. Clover ruled quiet at about $6,75@6,85 for fair to prime medium. Hungarian was in fair demand at 85c for prime. Millet was also in good request and 95@97½c was paid for prime. Offerings rather light.

Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was about 4 feet 6 inches—the marks are obscured by ice. Weather continues extremely cold: thermometer was from one to two degrees below zero all day in the shade, and the indications last P. M. were that it would drop to 10, perhaps 15 below last night. It appears to be generally conceded that we have not had so much cold weather for several years. The thermometer was eight degrees below zero on Fifth avenue yesterday morning.

THE Alice is still in Green river.

THE Juniata is laid up at Cincinnati.

THE Paragon left New Orleans Saturday for the Ohio river.

THE Robert Mitchell left Evansville for New Orleans Saturday with 500 tons.

WABASH was rising at Terre Haute Thursday, but is still frozen tight at the mouth.

THE Ashland, Arkansas River to New Orleans, passed Vicksburg Saturday evening with 1,300 bales cotton.

TOBACCO is being freighted from the head of the Cumberland River, and intermediate points, to Nashville at $1 ₱ hogshead.

ICE knocked a hole in the hull of the little Kanawha River packet, Active, at Gallipolis, Saturday. The leak was stopped, and she went up Kanawha.

ON Wednesday last, while the Capitol City was at Vicksburg, two colored roustabouts fired pistol shots at her mate. He chased and captured them, and delivered them to the police.

BUSINESS at the landing is almost entirely played out, in consequence of the suspension of navigation. The Exchange is still ready for engagements, and she will be the first boat out after navigation has been resumed.

THE H. C. Yaeger is coming to Evansville. She has seventy-one hhds. sugar, and 132 bbls. molasses for Cairo; 20 bbls molasses and three bxs bitters for Evansville, and 317 tons for St. Louis, to be reshipped at Cairo by rail.

CAPT. JOSEPH MCDONALD, who was accidently shot while out hunting last fall, near Sewickley, has recovered sufficiently to be about, and notwithstanding some of the shot penetrated into his eye, it is thought that the sight will be but little if any impaired.

THE Keokuk Gate City wonders what has become of the steamboat embroglio. Peace will probably be proclaimed in time for the opening of navigation to St. Paul. The Gate City makes the following remark: "If the appropriation of $480,000, for the completion of the rapids improvement, which has been recommended by the committee, is made by Congress, it is expected that the first steamboat will pass through the canal before the close of navigation next fall."

LEGAL.

☞NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD BONDHOLDERS.—The Executive Committee of the Board of Directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company adopted the following resolution on the 5th of January instant:

WHEREAS, This Company has applied to Congress for aid to complete its road by a Government guarantee of interest on its bonds hereafter to be issued, and whereas, it is desirable that the holders of this company's first mortgage bonds should meet for conference and action concerning their interests generally, and especially in relation to any action Congress may take on the company's application now pending before it; therefore,

Resolved, That the Secretary call a meeting of the bondholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, to be held in its office, in New York city, on the 18th day of March next, at noon, to take action in the premises.

Pursuant to the above resolution, the holders of the bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company are requested to meet at its office, No. 23 5th av., New York city, at noon on the 18th day of March, 1875.

HOME NEWS.

Sixth Ward Republicans.

The Republicans of the Sixth ward will meet at the Ann Street School House on Wednesday the 10th inst., at 7 o'clock P. M., to make suggestions for ward nominations. By order of the Committee.

Suit in Ejectment.

An action in ejectment was begun in the Common Pleas Court No. 1 yesterday, by Thomas Mellon against James Miller, Alexander Miller and John Davenport, for the recovery of twenty-four acres of coal land, situate in Elizabeth township. A summons was issued returnable the first Monday in March.

Ear Frozen.

Yesterday afternoon a brakeman on the Connellsville Railroad, on landing at the depot in this city, put his hand up to one of his ears to see if it was frozen, and striking it a little too hard that member was broken off. He was taken to a physician's office to have the matter attended to, but the doctor couldn't replace the minus ear.

The Monthly Elevator.

The second number of this new journal, edited by Professors Johnson and Neale, and printed at Washington, Pa., is out promptly on time, and is well made up in both departments of pen and scissors. We don't see how any of our colored friends can excuse themselves for not supporting a paper at once so creditable and useful to their race as the Monthly Elevator.

Donations of Coal.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Joseph Neely, of the Allegheny Board of Poor Directors, received a donation of 100 bushels of Coal from Mr. W. C. Hodge to be distributed among the poor of the Fourth ward. He also received a donation of 100 bushels for the destitute of the First ward, from Mr. E. W. Hill, and also 50 bushels from Mr. Charles Holyland to be be distributed in the same ward. The coal will be distributed on the order of the Board of Poor Directors.

Presentation.

Colonel Samuel Kilgore, County Treasurer, was yesterday presented with an elegant gold watch and chain, with seal attached, by the clerks of his office and other friends. The presentation speech was made by Colonel T. M. Bayne, and the response by M. C. Moreland, Esq. Colonel Kilgore not being forewarned of the matter, was completely surprised, and for a time was at a loss for expression, but managed to thank the donors in a neat little speech, most happily delivered. The watch, which was one of beautiful design and extreme elegance, was purchased at the jewelry establishment of G. W. Hazlett, Smithfield street. After the presentation, the party adjourned to Mrs. Bair's, where full justice was done to a well-served repast.

MINER'S MEETING.

Large Attendance—The Final Decision.

Yesterday the miner's of the Monongahela Valley held a meeting at Monongahela City, to take final action as to the terms upon which they would go to work in the mines.

The committee reported in favor of adopting three cents per bushel as the price, and "pay day" every four weeks—the men to be paid in cash. This report was adopted by the meeting, and was endorsed by a number of speeches from miners representing different sections of the valley.

After this action had been taken the meeting adjourned sine die.

THE BANKRUPT COURT.

Dan Rice Files His Petition to be Adjudged a Bankrupt.

Yesterday morning Dan Rice, of Girard, Erie county, filed a voluntary petition for the adjudication in bankruptcy of himself, in the United States District Court. The schedule filed with the petition is a voluminous document, and represents debts ranging from $5.25 to $21,000. His liabilities aggregate a little over $100,000, while his assets are placed at $75, in the shape of wearing apparel, which is claimed by the petitioner as exempt, and is therefore not available.

The matter was referred to Register Woodruff, of Erie, for examination and report.

FATALITY AT MOORE'S STATION.

A Conductor Killed.

Yesterday morning Mr. John Chalfant, a conductor of a coal train on the Connellsville railroad, met with an accident which resulted in his death in the afternoon. At two o'clock in the morning he started out with his train and proceeded as far as Moore's station, where a number of cars were to be left on the siding. The engine had been run up the track and as it was backing down, Chalfant attempted to get into the cabin, when his foot slipped and he fell with his legs across the track, over which the engine passed, severing them from his body. After the accident he was taken to a house near by, and medical aid summoned, but nothing could be done for him, and he died in the afternoon. Deceased was a single man, and boarded in this city.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Boy Killed at Soho.

Yesterday evening about five o'clock a boy by the name of Abraham L. Davis, aged ten years, met with an accident at Soho which resulted in almost instant death.

It appears that he with a number of lads were playing on a slack pile near Armstrong and Matthew's coke ovens, which had been undermined at one side by teamsters who had been hauling it away during the day, and going too near the edge it gave way, and in falling the boy landed under the mass, a large lump of the frozen slack falling on him. It required about fifteen minutes to take him out, and when found his body was bent over so that his head was between his feet. He only breathed once after being released. He was taken to the residence of his father, Mr. Edward Davis, who lives near Second avenue, in the Fourteenth ward, and the coroner notified. An inquest was held on the body when a verdict of accidental death was rendered.

ALLEGHENY FINANCES.

The Tax Duplicates of the First Ward—School Taxes Refunded—Eighth Ward Taxes—The Pleasant Valley Behind Hand.

The Finance Committee of Allegheny Councils met last evening, Mr. N. H. Voegtly presiding.

On motion of Mr. Smith, the duplicate of uncollected taxes of 1874 in the First ward, which had been placed in the hands of Alderman Baillie for collection, was transferred to Mr. Lyon.

An ordinance was ordered to be prepared authorizing the refunding of $1,553 to R. B. Reno, of the Eighth ward, for school taxes collected by him, and paid into the city Treasury instead of to the Receiver of School Taxes.

The Controller was directed to notify the bondsmen of D. W. C. Kelley, of the Eighth ward, that if the balance of taxes placed in Mr. Kelley's hands for collection were not paid into the city treasury within thirty days, suit would be instituted against them for the amount.

The contract for furnishing the vehicle license plates was awarded to A. & J. McKenna for 5½ cents per plate.

The Controller was directed to notify the Pleasant Valley Railway Company that if they did not pay the taxes on their cars for the year 1874 within thirty days, the Solicitor would enter suit against them.

"OLD TIMES COME AGAIN."

An Exceedingly Warm Session of the Water Committee—Mr. Mitchell Denounces the Minutes as "A Lie"—They are Approved—Civil and Assistant Engineers Elected—Other Matters of Interest.

A regular meeting of the Water Committee was held last night in Municipal Hall, Mr. R. B. Brown in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, corrected and approved.

The President read the fol[illegible]ing communication from the Ci[illegible]ler:

To the Water Committee

GENTLEMEN—Your attention is most respectfully called to the 4th section of an act of Assembly, approved February 28, 1868, authorizing the city of Pittsburgh to borrow one million dollars for improving and extending the Water Works, which provides that the interest shall be provided by Councils out of the revenue derived from water rents, and as the provisions of said section are applicable to the additional million borrowed by the city for the same purpose, under the act of March 15, 1871, it will be necessary for Councils to provide for the interest thereof in the same manner and from the same source. This will require your committee to recommend for the coming year the levying of a rate of rent sufficient to pay not only the ordinary expenses, but the interest for the said two million dollars.

Interest amounting to	$140,000
Running expenses, say about	100,000
	$240,000

Yours very respectfully,
R. M. SNODGRASS.

THE PROPOSITION IMPORTANT.

Mr. Goldthorpe said the proposition of the Controller was just what the South Side wanted. Heretofore that section had been paying water loan interest in the shape of property tax. He thought those who were benefitted by the water works should pay the interest on it.

Assessor Bostwick stated that an increase of $50,000 would have to be made in the water revenues this year in order to meet the additional interest.

After some discussion the matter was referred to a sub-committee consisting of Messrs. Harrison, West and Fulton for a thorough examination. It was considered too important to be acted upon without due deliberation.

The following January pay rolls of the water works were approved:

Salaries	$ 398 32
Lower Water Works	1,130 97
Upper " "	409 36
Forty-fifth street Water Works	290 15
Street hands	679 00
Bills for coal, &c	4,556 62
Total	$7,464 48

SELECTING ENGINEERS.

The election of officers for the old water department was next proceeded with. Thomas Harris was elected first engineer and Thos. Dalzell assistant engineer of the lower water works. Henry Atkinson and Wm. Doyle were elected to similar positions at the upper water works and Wm. Doyle, Sr., and Robert Jones to similar positions at the Forty-fifth streets works. All these gentlemen were chosen by acclamation and have filled the positions for four years past. For the position of assistant clerk in the office of the old water works Messrs. J. P. McKee, James McGaffin, J. K. Murray and Curtis Haven were nominated. On the third ballot Mr. McGaffin was elected, receiving fourteen votes against six for Mr. McKee.

A number of petitions for exonerations from payment of water tax were allowed. One of the petitioners had the title "Dr." prefixed to his name. Mr. Foley thinking that "Doctor" and "poverty" were inconsistent terms, moved to amend by striking out the "Dr." The idea was received with shouts of laughter.

Old water works business having all been transacted, the committee adjourned to the office of the Water Extension Department, to attend to such matters as might be brought up in connection with it.

AN OLD FASHIONED FUSS.

Before proceeding with the reading of the minutes, Chairman Brown stated that he wished to make an explanation in regard to them. Mr. Mitchell arose and strenuously insisted upon the reading of the minutes being continued without any prefatory remarks. The reason for Mr. Mitchell's objections was not altogether plain to a majority of the members just at that time, but subsequent proceedings explained them. Mr. Brown again attempted to proceed but he was again interrupted, when he ordered Mr. Mitchell to take his seat. Mr. Mitchell said he wouldn't do it, but he did. The Chairman then went on with his statement, and said that at the meeting of the committee held in the Common Council chamber, in the latter part of January, a motion to adjourn was lost by a vote of six [illegible] to eight against. The Clerk, in recording the [illegible]eedings, had got the vote on adjournment [illegible] end foremost, and had it eight for to six ag[illegible]. Mr. Brown instructed the Clerk to correct [illegible] error, and it was done. That was the substance [illegible] Chairman's explanation.

"MAKING IT WARM."

Mr. Brown had barely finished, when Mr. Mitchell took the floor and denounced the minutes in unmeasured terms, and said they had been tampered with. He had twice visited the committee room, examined the minutes, and found the record to be in the matter of adjournment—eight for to six against. On a third inspection of the book he found that an erasure had been made and the vote altered. He emphatically termed the minutes a lie.

Mr. Brown—They are a what, sir?

Mr. Mitchell—A lie.

Mr. Brown's lips compressed and his color mounted but he said nothing. Mr. Mitchell continued his speech, which was a very bitter one, and becoming personal in his remarks Mr. Brown called him to order, but he refused to come to order. The chairman said he would not allow any member of the committee to indulge in personal reflections, and in return Mr. Mitchell said the chairman was deficient in courtesy. During all this time Mr. Mitchell was speaking by the courtesy of the chairman for there was no motion before the committee.

THE OPINION OF OTHERS.

A motion was finally made to approve the minutes, and remarks being called for on the motion, several other members joined in the discussion. Mr. Anderson suggested that the clerk make a statement in regard to his minutes. In response Mr. Hamilton, the clerk, said that he had recorded the vote on adjournment as he understood it. Messrs. Gross and Hunter both stated that if the clerk had made a mistake in writing his minutes it was the province of the committee to correct the errors, and not the duty of Mr. Brown to do so. During all this hot debate ex-Assistant Civil Engineer Green was an attentive and deeply interested listener, and he eventually broke out, too. He got so full of feeling that he couldn't hold in.

Mr. Epping inquired what the effect would be if the minutes were allowed to remain as the Clerk had written them.

Mr. Brown—It would result in reinstating Civil Engineer Kennedy. The vote as recorded by the Clerk shows that the motion to adjourn was carried and business transacted subsequent to that would be of no effect.

The motion to approve the minutes finally came up for disposition, and Mr. Mitchell demanded the ayes and nays. They were called and the minutes were approved by a vote of fourteen ayes to five nays.

MR. GREEN GETS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Mr. Green—Whoop, la!

Mr. Brown—Mr. Green, you'll please take a back seat.

Mr. Green retired back in the crowd, but soon came to the front again and resumed his sarcastic and humorous comments.

Mr. West—Mr. Chairman, I move that Mr. Green leave the room or be put out.

Mr. Green (with twinkling eyes and laughing face)—I second the motion. Here I go out on my ear, but you'll hear from me, you bet.

Amidst uproarious laughter the funny Mr. Green left the room, and the amusing part of the meeting was over. The bone of contention in the shape of the minutes having been disposed of, a number of bills were taken up and ordered to be paid, after which the following

CIVIL ENGINEER ELECTED.

On motion of Mr. West, the committee decided to go into an election for Civil Engineer, which position was declared vacant at the January meeting. The following gentlemen were nominated: Charles Reichspfar, J. E. Shields, Isaac Morley, Wm. Rowe and Thomas Roberts. Three ballots were taken as follows:

	First.	Second.	Third.
Reichspfar	1
Shields	4	4	1
Morley	6	8	14
Rowe	8	7	5
Roberts	1	1

AN ASSISTANT CHOSEN.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Miss Charlotte Thompson was favored with a large house last night in her second appearance as Ogarita in "The Sea of Ice." This character is a delightful one, quite interesting, and entertaining, and in the hands of Miss Thompson it is invested with a charm which makes it doubly acceptable to her auditors. The acting however, commendable and graceful as it is, not only of Miss Thompson but of those who support her, must be overlooked in the grandeur of the scenery. Mr. Palm[illegible] artist, has certainly surpassed [illegible] setting of this play and [illegible]nday. [illegible] what great things he is [illegible] doing when necessity requires extra exertion and the display of artistic ability. "The Sea of Ice" presents a series of very beautiful pictures, each one of which, as it unfolds, surpasses its predecessor in splendor. The transformation from a scene in the cold, dreary, uninhabited north to a representation of the rich luxuriance of the tropics is as grand as it is unexpected. The Parisian palace in the closing act is the finest effect of all.

The Lecture Last Night.

The great popularity of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore in our community was flatteringly attested last night, by the large audience who braved the piercing atmosphere and assembled at Library Hall to hear her discourse "Concerning Husbands," and it is not too much to say that those who heard the lecture, were well repaid for their attendance.

In the discussion of her theme, the lecturess touched upon the relations between men and women in the earliest time before the Christian era, and in different countries. The progress of the race under the influence of Christianity was then traced, and its influence in changing these relations and bringing about a higher recognition of the claims of women, was noted. In the course of her remarks the lecturess spoke in highest eulogy of the Scandanavian race, who were our early ancestors, and argued that among them was found the highest form of purity of life among the women, the highest type of chivalry among the men, and the consequent influence was such that it permeated all their posterity.

The lecturess then gradually rounded to the present century and to the American people, and in doing so tickled the vanity of American husbands—albeit she told the exact truth—by giving them the palm of superiority for all that was noble, and gentle and pure, and loving in husbands, yet with these paragons of perfection she had fault to find, and that chrystalized into a strong sentence, was that they had as yet not given woman full equality with men before the law.

Mrs. Livermore then took up this point and elaborated it at considerable length, and with an array of facts, a force of logic, and a felicity of diction, that engaged the most earnest attention and, perhaps, brought many a doubter over to her side. The drift of her argument was that this equality before the law should be accorded to women, as a safeguard for the sanctity of home. In the home, after all, all laws centered; without pure homes as the basis, all law was inoperative; with pure homes society was safe, and the land in which the home was guarded and held most sacred, would be the land where Christianity and civilization, happiness and prosperity would most pre-eminently prevail.

To secure this desideratum—to make home what it ought to be, the lecture contended that the man and woman should have equal rights,—the woman should not be as she was now in law, practically a servant. Between the husband and wife there should be legal equality, and this was the failure which she charged to the American husbands, but which she was glad to note was gradually coming before them in its proper light.

In speaking of the true relations of husband and wife, Mrs. Livermore gave some exquisite pictures of domestic happiness and devotion,—citing among others—although she gave no names, that of Longfellow and his wife, Wendell Phillips and his wife, and others of the distinguished in our land and time. She closed with a beautiful and fervidly eloquent peroration descriptive of the home, which, as matters now stood, was an ideal, but with the change that was coming on apace in public sentiment, would soon become a reality.

The lecture throughout was instructive, entertaining, and full of the elegance and grace and eloquence of composition for which the lecturess is noted. Here and there were occasional flashes of sparkling wit that very perceptibly affected the risibilities of the audience, whose pleasure was frequently manifested. Mrs. Livermore's popularity rests on genuine merit, and her lecture last evening attested that she deserves her fame.

Gilmore's Grand Concert.

Gilmore's famous Twenty-second Regiment Band of New York, now on its way to Louisville, Ky., after having already given a very successful series of concerts in Boston, New York, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia, will give one concert in this city at Library Hall next Friday. This magnificent organization has appeared here once [illegible] last December, and we all remember what a [illegible] performance it was. The Band is now increased in number and the programme, with the exception of one or two pieces, is entirely new. Mr. Arbuckle is to play a cornet solo. Miss Emma C. Thursby, who will make her first appearance here, is an extremely fine soprano and will sing Proch's variations, one of the most difficult pieces of music ever written, and Bishop's echo song, and, to complete, the baton will be held by the grand Gilmore himself. All this will certainly fill Library Hall to its utmost capacity.

Fifth Avenue Theater.

This place of amusement has been made cosy and comfortable for the reception and appearance of Haverly's famous minstrel troupe to-night. The Cincinnati Enquirer, in speaking of them, says: "It is certainly one of the best and most brilliant combination of "artists of the black cork" that has ever appeared before the public. A higher standard throughout than is usual with such troupes seems to be aimed at by this company. The vocal and instrumental music in the first part was very fine. The sentimental songs were given with pathos and feeling, and the choruses were most effective. The company numbers several splendid voices—sweet, resonant voices, that cannot but please a popular audience."

Library Hall.

The inimitable Lotta, whose name is a synonym for amusement, opens in a weeks engagement at Library Hall, next Monday night. She brings with her an excellent company, which includes Mr. E. A. Locke, the comedian, whose drolleries made him such a favorite when he was here last fall with the Rose Wood combination.

Franklin Bowling Hall.

The Franklin House Bowling Hall, on Fifth avenue, is largely patronized by gentlemen who have a penchant for knocking down ten pins. It is the finest establishment of its kind in the city.

Musical and Dramatic Notes.

CLARA MORRIS has had "a growing success" in San Francisco.

THE inimitable Lotta, supported by Mr. E. A. Loche and a first-class dramatic company, will be at Library Hall next week.

FRANKLIN HOUSE BOWLING SALOON, Fifth avenue, is decidedly the most popular place for bowling entertainment in the city.

THE "Sea of Ice" at the Opera House is thoroughly appreciated by our people, as is evidenced by the fine houses in attendance each evening.

MR. J. L. TOOLE, the English comedian, did not play a successful engagement in Boston, because William Warren there is a better actor in the same parts

AT NANTES, in France, the Davenport Brothers gave their usual exhibition, but the knots were tied by an old sailor. The result was not as usual; instead of five minutes, those knots amused the spirits for just half an hour.

MR. AND MRS. SEGUIN temporarily seceded from the Kellogg troupe because the management assigned Miss Beaumont to the role of Marguerite and required Mrs. Seguin to take the part of Siebel, which she refused to do. The public will be glad to learn that the trouble has been compromised.

THE Fifth Avenue Theatre, in which the world-renowned Haverly Minstrels commence a short engagement this evening, is at present one of the most comfortable places of amusement in the city, the heating apparatus having recently been renewed and the stage and auditorium vastly improved.

GILMORE'S famous Twenty-second Regiment Band and grand concert organization, including the young and charming prima donna, Miss Emma C. Thursby, will be greeted by a full house, Friday evening. The concert will be given at Library Hall this time, which is as cozy this wintry weather as your own parlor.

THE COURTS.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

United States District Court.

(Before Judge McCandless.)

Jas. M. Lambring, of Armstrong county, filed a petition for the adjudication in bankruptcy of himself. Referred to Register for examination.

Messimer & Backus vs. Jas. M. Lambring, Armstrong county, debtor. Leave granted to discontinue preceedings. Seely for creditors.

Kerr, Pery & Co., of Crawford county, bankrupts. Leave granted C. H. Ames, one of the bankrupts, to file supplemental [illegible] [illegible] instine & Co. et al., creditors, vs. Yerzuet & Bros., of Erie county. Proceedings discontinued. Seely for creditors.

Keefer & Co., bankrupts, of Pittsburgh Resolution of composition having been accepted by the requisite number of creditors, and the amount in value, the same was approved by the Court and declared to be binding upon all parties concerned.

Henry Holdship and R. S. Waring filed petitions in bankruptcy, for themselves, with leave to file complete schedules at some time hereafter. Orders were granted restraining executive creditors.

U. S. Attorney Reed filed an information for forfeiture against the distillery, building, apple brandy, &c., owned by John South, and process of attachment and monition was awarded, returnable on the first Monday in March.

In the case of the United States against the distillery, building, &c., owned and claimed by Wm. Britton, of Brownsville, a petition for the release of the property on bond, having been presented, and the petition was granted on filing of a bond of $17,000.

Common Pleas Court No. 1.

(Before Judges Sterrett and Stowe.)

The case of J. G. Lauer & Bro. vs. Paul H. Hacke, reported yesterday, is still on trial.

James Harrison vs Joseph Lowry et al; action in ejectment to recover a lot of ground in the Thirteenth ward, city. Verdict for plaintiff for 6¼ cents and costs.

George Calhoun vs. Lydia B. Coulter; action in assumpsit. Verdict for the plaintiff for $262.87. The defendant made a motion for a new trial.

Killian, Olerman & Co. vs. Oliver Adams et ux. Judgment of non-suit taken.

In the case of Kiers, administrator, vs David Stewart, Col. Alexander Hilands was appointed receiver.

The Boatmans' Fire and Marine Insurance Co. vs. H. B. Wilkins and William Bagaley impleaded with Robert Finney; action on a bond for the recovery of $15,000 against the sureties of Robert Finney, late treasurer of the plaintiff company. The defendants became sureties on the bond of Mr. Finney for the first year for which he was elected, and were the only sureties he had during his time as treasurer, but the bond was not renewed at each of his re-elections. The bond was consequently good for but one year, the Judge charged, and as the defalcation took place during one of the subsequent years for which he was re-elected treasurer, the company could not recover on the bond. Under the Court's instruction the jury found for defendants.

A. A. McCarthy, for use of the Duquesne Savings Bank, vs. Michael O'Hara and Francis O'Hara; action to recover balance due on a mortgage. Verdict for plaintiff for $18,301.35.

Harry McGowan vs. Ralph Ord; action for work and labor done. On trial.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company vs. the Columbia Conduit Company. The Court fixed Thursday, February 11, 1875, as the time for the argument on the preliminary injunction.

In the case of the Union Insurance Company vs. Alexander Smith, the plaintiff made a motion for a new trial.

TEMPERANCE MASS MEETING.

Resolutions Presented and Adopted—Opposition to the Repeal of the Local Option Law.

A mass meeting of the temperance advocates was held at the Alliance Rooms yesterday morning, Mr. Thomas B. Hirshberger in the Chair, and Mr. W. Powell acting as Secretary. The Secretary read the following communication:

Thos. H. Rabe, Pittsburgh, Pa.:—DEAR SIR—The Committee on Vice and Immorality held a meeting on Thursday evening. I made every effort within my power to have a day set, so that both sides might have a hearing, but of no avail. The committee stood 17 for reporting the bill for the unconstitutional repeal of the local option law and 3 opposed. The bill is not yet reported to the House, but will be on Monday evening. I can see no chance or hope for saving it in the House, and from what I can learn there is but little hope of it in the Senate. But we will hope for the best. Yours, truly,
D. J. ROGERS.

Gen. Lane, from the Committee on Resolutions, presented the following:

To the Honorable Senators and Members of the Legislature of Pennsylvania:

WHEREAS, An effort is being made to repeal the Local Option law by those who seem to be deaf to cries of helpless women and innocent children whose condition has been reduced to wretchedness, poverty and extreme want; whose natural protectors have been robbed of manhood, disabled and ruined by the accursed traffic and indulgence in intoxicating beverage; and,

WHEREAS, The traffic or indulgence in intoxicating liquors is a leech upon the morals and productive industries of the people; and

WHEREAS, Said traffic annually destroys about seventy millions of bushels of grain in the United States (of which Pennsylvania furnishes her portion) that should go to feed the starving thousands instead of being converted to an element of destruction; and

WHEREAS, It is the duty of legislators to enact laws for the protection and general good of their constituents, and not to authorize or protect a class of individuals doing wrong to the masses; and

WHEREAS, We believe the Local Option law is doing good in its practical workings, and that it should have a full and fair trial, therefore

Resolved, That this mass Prohibition Convention of Allegheny county, in the name of our God and of suffering humanity, earnestly and solemnly protest against the repeal of the Local Option law.

Resolved, That we request the Legislature of Pennsylvania to pass a joint resolution requesting Congress to enact a law prohibiting the manufacture, or the importation of, or the traffic in, intoxicating beverages within the limits of the United States and territories of America.

The paper was discussed at some length by different persons, among whom were Dr. Swift, General Lane, Messrs. Shinn, Bryson and Chancellor Woods, after which a copy was ordered to be sent to the Representatives at Harrisburg. After appointing another mass convention to be held on the 23d instant, and appointing a committee consisting of Dr. Kennedy, Mr. Finley and Mr. Powell, to make the necessary arrangements for said meeting, the convention adjourned.

CITY EDUCATIONAL INTERESTS.

Meeting of the Central Board of Education—Reports of City Superintendent and Principal of the High School—Organization of the New Board.

A regular meeting of the Central Board of Education was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms on Fourth avenue. The following members were present: Messrs. Parker, Caldwell, Case, Craig, Evans, Fleming, French, Harper, Ferry, Kehew, Lazear, Lewis, Miller, McClurg, McEwen, Pitcairn, Finnerty, Rankin, Schultz, Shaw, Strain, Wilson, and President Nobbs.

Secretary Kehew reported that since the last meeting warrants amounting to $33,714.92 had been drawn and bills footing up $836.98 ordered to be paid. The report was received and filed.

THE WARD SCHOOLS.

Mr. George J. Luckey, City Superintendent, submitted his report for January, showing fifty-six male teachers and three hundred and forty-four female teachers employed. The enrollment of pupils was as follows: Boys 8445, girls 8073, being an increase of 522 over the corresponding month of last year. The average attendance was: boys 6915 and girls 6398, making a total of 13,313. The evening schools have been well attended during the entire season, notably those where instruction was given in free hand and mechanical drawing, the attendance in these schools being double what it was the previous session. The miscellaneous statistics for the month are as follows:

Highest per cent. of attendance in any one room	99
No. of pupils not absent	4,508
" visits by parents and others	1,352
" Directors' visits	596
" Rooms visited by Superintend't	48
" corporal punishments	326

The report was received and filed.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The report of Prof. B. C. Jillson, Principal of the High School, showed the average attendance last month to be as follows:

Academical department—Males, 116; females, 80. Normal department—Males, 0; females, 83. Commercial department—Males, 87, females, 0. Total, males, 163; females, 366.

Miss Stevens, of the Normal department, and Miss Grafiner, of the Academical department, died during the past month. Five applicants for admission to the Commercial department, viz: Nos. 352, 353, 354, 356 and 357, all of whom passed the required examination, were recommended for admission. The following students completed the course of study in the Commercial department: R. M. Sterling, W. H. Blake, Frank Scott, James Kain, John C. Cameron, W. W. Colville, Stewart Munn, W. H. Niebaum, Andrew Easton, W. M. Kirke, John Lodeman, H. E. Juergers, C. W. Geibold, W. R. Niebaum and Wilson Harper. Among the donations to the Library of the High School was "The Art of Restoring to Rome the Navigation of the River Tiber," illustrated by sixty-three engravings and printed in the year 1685. This volume was presented by Mr. Joseph Hartman, who also donated several other books. Gifts were also acknowledged from Messrs. Thos. J. Craig, George J. Luckey, S. A. Clarke and Stephen Quinon. The report was received and filed and the recommendations of the Principal adopted.

FINANCIAL EXHIBIT.

Mr. Rankin, from the Finance Committee, presented their report as follows:

Bal. on hand Jan. 11, 1875	$120,840 44
Receipts, City Treasurer, taxes, 1874	12,048 30

		$104,186 89
Interest due to Feb. 1, 1875		4,309 65

The report was received and filed, and a number of bills accompanying it were ordered to be paid.

Mr. Lewis, from the High School Committee, presented bills amounting to $351.93, which were ordered to be paid. Mr. Pitcairn, from the Committee on Teachers and Salaries, reported that they had granted additional teachers to the Bedford and Hancock sub-districts. Approved. Mr. Fleming, of the Vacation Committee, objected to the manner in which the new school calendar had been prepared, and moved that the teachers be required to consider as black the days for the meeting of the Central Board, which are printed in blue. The motion was not acted upon.

There being no more business to transact, the Board adjourned sine die.

THE NEW BOARD.

The new board then organized by electing Mr. Alex. Pitcairn temporary Chairman and Mr. C. A. Kehew temporary Secretary. The following new members presented their credentials and were admitted to seats:

South district—John Wilson.
Bedford district—Chas. Evans.
Grant district—W. H. McKelvy.
Wickersham district—Wm. McClurg.
Ralston district—Joseph Bell.
Lawrence district—George McKee.
Colfax district—A. A. Gutman.
Lincoln district—C. A. Kehew.
Knox district—M. M. Schneider.
Washington district—George Teese.

Mr. Wilson nominated Mr. J. H. Nobbs for permanent President. On motion the nominations were closed and the gentleman was elected by acclamation. Mr. Kehew was unanimously re-elected Secretary at a salary of $1,800 per annum.

Mr. Wood, of the Thirty-sixth ward, was exonerated from the payment of school taxes, the rules governing the Board last year were adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE LAST NIGHT.

A Leading Hardware Establishment Burned Out—The Result of a Defective Flue—Over $70,000 Worth of Property Destroyed.

Last night a few minutes after eight o'clock fire was observed issuing from the hardware house of Messrs. Whitmore, Wolff, Lane & Co., No. 50 Wood street, two doors from Third avenue. When first discovered the flames were burning at the ceiling in the first floor, but in a moment had burst out in the second story,—indicating that the fire had been smouldering for some time. An alarm was sounded from box 14, and the Fire Department responded promptly. At first there was a little difficulty about the fire plugs, but fortunately, Superintendent Atkinson, with his accustomed energy, had been at work during the day, and there was less trouble in this direction than might have been expected considering the weather with which we have been favored during the past few days. The engines got to work speedily, but the flames had obtained such a headway before they were observed, that it was difficult to get them under control. The cold was intense, and some of the firemen while working were almost encased in ice, but they labored unflinchingly, and by their exertions succeeded in preventing a spread of the flames, and in finally subduing the fire, but not before the building had been almost destroyed.

The building was a three-story brick, and was owned by Mr. E. S. Lawrence & Co., of Philadelphia. It was estimated to be worth from $10,000 to $12,000. The fire and water together rendered it a complete wreck—there being scarcely anything left of it but bare walls and a few charred timbers. It is covered by insurance in Eastern companies.

The firm of Messrs. Whitmore, Wolff, Lane & Co. is one of the most prominent and largest establishment in the city. Their business is that of wholesale and retail hardware, and the store from cellar to third floor was filled with a choice stock of goods part of which had but recently been laid in. The stock was estimated to be worth from $75,000 to $80,000, and it is feared that the greater part of it will prove a total loss. That which was stored in the two upper floors was consumed, and that which was below was so flooded with water, as to make it in all probability of no value. The firm could not accurately estimate the loss, but put down the greater part of the stock as worthless. They are fully covered by insurance in home and foreign companies—the insurance being divided in small sums among the different companies. They will lose otherwise by the interruption to their business, but will remedy this by starting up in new quarters without delay.

The greatest credit is due the firemen for the manner in which they labored. They withstood the cold until some of them were almost frozen. By the kindness of Mrs. McElroy, mother of Mr. John McElroy, member of the Fire Commission, they were supplied with hot coffee, after the fire had been gotten under control—for which attention the "boys" were duly grateful.

Suggestion Meeting.

The following suggestions have been made in the districts indicated:

ELEVENTH WARD—Select Council (one to elect), A. G. McCandless, Wm. McConway. Common Council (one to elect), Henry Vos Kamp, Wm. B. Hazlett, Albert Moore, Wm. D. Frazier. THE DEMOCRATIC FORLORN HOPE.

The City Ticket Nominated at Yesterday's Convention—Morton Hunter's Greek Fire—Resolutions of Regret—Introduction of Incongruous Matter.

The Democratic City Convention met yesterday morning in the Select Council chamber, in Municipal Hall, and nominated candidates for Mayor, Treasurer and Controller. At half past ten o'clock the slim meeting was called to order by J. K. P. Duff, who was elected temporary chairman. After the credentials of delegates had been received the roll was called, and it was found that forty-one districts were represented, leaving sixty without representation. Messrs. Kuhn, Carr, Hunter, Carson and Strain were appointed as a committee on contested seats. A permanent organization was effected by electing Mr. Duff President, and Messrs. B. C. Sawyer, J. O. O'Reilly, J. P. Laughran and Chris. Feld, Vice Presidents. The temporary Secretaries were elected as permanent Secretaries.

During the absence of the Committee on Contested Seats, Mr. Jno. C. Graham offered the following which was adopted:

WHEREAS, The city of Pittsburgh has lost by death an executive officer whose course in the performance of the duties of his position have won for him the respect and esteem of all good men, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Democratic Convention of the City of Pittsburgh, that we deplore the loss to our city of an exemplary citizen, an upright magistrate, and one who by his faithful performance of all the duties of the various positions, both public and private, in which he has been placed, has endeared himself to the community.

Resolved, That we sympathize with the family of the deceased in the great loss they have sustained.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Convention, and the Secretary be requested to furnish a copy to the family of the deceased.

A resolution offered by Mr. N. P. Sawyer, endorsing Andrew Johnson, was adopted. The Committee on Contested Seats submitted a report admitting Mr. J. B. Meredith from the Second district and Mr. B. McGinnis from the Fourth district of the Sixth ward. This contest gave surface indications of having been originated for the sole purpose of giving to the Convention a little political vivacity of which it stood sorely in need. The Convention being now open for business, Mr. Carson nominated Chris. Magee for Mayor, and then read a letter from J. B. Guthrie, who declined a nomination for the same position. Mr. Hunter nominated Mr. B. C. Sawyer, but the gentleman promptly declined the honor, and there being no opposition to Mr. Magee, he was nominated by acclamation. Nominations for the remaining offices were then made as follows: For Controller, John B. Guthrie; and Thomas H. Davis. For Treasurer, Chas. H. Paulson, Frank Plunkett, H. A. Freyvogle and George S. Whitney. The name of the latter gentleman was withdrawn by Mr. Carson and a viva voce ballot being, taken Mr. Guthrie, for Treasurer got thirty-three votes and Mr. Davis thirteen. For Controller Mr. Plunkett received twenty nine votes Mr. Paulson six and Mr. Freyvogle eleven. Plunkett and Guthrie having received a majority of all the votes cast were declared duly nominated.

The presentation of the following resolution by Mr. Hunter made one think that a regular, old-fashioned Democratic whirlwind was going to break loose but with a little tact it was kept in bounds and only the mutterings of distant thunder were heard.

Be it resolved, that the Democratic City Convention, in nominating officers to fill the various city offices, expect and require the candidates nominated by it to labor with their utmost to secure their election to the offices for which they have been respectively nominated, and that if successful they will at their own cost employ the necessary legal measures to obtain possession of the same.

Mr. McLaughlin said if he was a candidate he would feel it his duty to resign in case such a resolution was passed. He didn't altogether appreciate Mr. Hunter in the role of the watch dog of the Democratic ducats. Mr. Carson mildly denounced the resolution as superfluous and unnecessary, and would consider it an insult were he a candidate. The offensive document was finally laid on the table. The next business was the appointment of a committee to wait upon the Taxpayer's Union and secure their co-operation in support of the Democratic ticket. The committee consists of Messrs. Carson, Sawyer, Strain and Cassiday. Mr. Kuhn offered a resolution requesting our representatives at Harrisburg to support an act providing for morning and evening trains on every railroad in the State, to and from every city of more than twenty thousand inhabitants, said trains not to run more than fifteen miles, and the railroad company not to charge fare exceeding three dollars per mile per year. The resolution not being at all clear it was laid on the table. After the adjournment of the Convention, the committee appointed to wait upon the taxpayers called upon Judge Mellon. The Judge was duly informed of the action of the Convention and of the nominations, and the inquiry was put as to what the Taxpayers' Union would do in the matter of endorsement. The Judge stated that unless a meeting of the Union was called it would be impossible to answer that query, and after a brief parley the committee withdrew.

BREVITIES.

Paragraphic Pencilings of Passing Events.

····Political matters are becoming quite lively in some of the wards.

····Superintendent Atkinson was experimenting with his new apparatus for thawing out frozen water plugs last evening.

····The Headquarters of the Department of the Pennsylvania G. A. R. has been established at No. 198 Pennsylvania avenue, Allegheny, by Grand Commander Tyson.

····A pair of horses attached to a hearse belonging to Charles Peebles & Co., ran off on Washington street, Allegheny, yesterday morning. The hearse was badly damaged.

····A few days ago we were advised by the Weather Bureau to look out for a severe wave of cold from the Northwest, and we may safely presume that we are in the midst of it now.

····A slight fire took place yesterday morning in a house occupied by Mrs. Little, corner of Sarah and Seventeenth streets, South Side. The Department was called out, but their services were not needed.

····On Monday evening a colored man entered the grocery store of Joseph Carson on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, and asked for a can of oysters and several pounds of cheese. After getting the articles he picked them up and ran out without paying for them.

····A brakeman on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, by the name of John Chalfant, had his right hand severely crushed by having it caught between the bumpers of the engine and a car, yesterday. The accident occured on the Plum Creek branch of the road.

····The Relief Committee of Post 88, G. A. R, consists of Messrs. Jacob D. Decker, J. H. Hutchiason, Alex Pentecost, George Stedeford and Wm. L. McCormick, who are now busily engaged assisting the destitute wives and orphans of soldiers in Allegheny. Application made to any member of the committee will be promptly attended to.

····The masquerade ball given by the Allegheny City Gymnastic club was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. The variety, grotesqueness and comical appearance of the maskers made up a scene of merriment, and the delightful music furnished for the occasion, contributed to make the evening as pleasant as a marriage bell. The festivities were kept up until the dawning day necessitated an adjournment.

PERSONAL.

Senator and Dr. Wood wants the Legislature to pass a bill regulating medical practice.

Mrs. Hill was in Harrisburg last night lecturing the Legislative Solons on Local Option.

Deputy Mayor Heisel Bernard Krugh, Charles Foerester and Antone Henger of the South Side, have left the city for the purpose of making an extended visit in Virginia.

Mr. George Barker, a well known citizen of the East End, died on Monday evening. He was for many years proprietor of the Point Breeze Hotel. He will be buried to-day from his residence on Dennison avenue.

Rev. L. McGuire, pastor of the Bingham street M. E. Church, South Side, was presented with a fine gold watch and chain on Monday night by the members of his congregation. A purse of money was also presented to the pastor's wife.

Many of our readers will remember the very interesting lecture on "The Sun," delivered in Library Hall, by Prof. S. P. Langley, in April, 1874, and will be pleased to learn that they can secure a copy of it in pamphlet form, as it has been reprinted from the Journal of the Franklin Institute. The lecture as printed is illustrated with a number of finely executed diagrams, which enhances its value very greatly.

HONORING THE DEAD.

Action of the ex-Policemen Concerning the Late Mayor.

A meeting of policemen who were on the force during the administration of the late Mayor Blackmore, was held yesterday afternoon in Municipal Hall for the purpose of making arrangements to attend the funeral of the deceased this afternoon. Seth Wilmot acted as President and W. S. Musser, as Secretary. A committee consisting of Samuel Irwin, James Smith, P. J. Carrigan, C. Havis and E. H. Warren were appointed to recommend to the meeting what action should be taken. The committee after deliberation suggested the following: That the ex-force turn out in full uniform, wearing crape on the arm to distinguish it from the new force; that the detachment be headed by ex-Chief of Police Irwin, and that W. H. Musser have command, assisted by W. J. Gordon; that the men meet at the Central Police Station at twelve o'clock, and that a committee of three be appointed to furnish crape. The report was adopted and the meeting adjourned.

A Prevalent Disease.

There is no disease so prevalent in America as dyspepsia and certainly none which has so generally baffled and defeated the skill of the medical profession. The only remedy for this distressing complaint is a pure medicated stimulant. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, whose essential principle is sound rye, is admitted by medical practioners to be the only alterative, corrective and restorative on which they can rely. The Bitters are the best possible specific for flatulency, dizziness, water brash, irregularity of the bowels, and all indications of confirmed dyspepsia. They do not excite, but soothe the irritated stomach and bowels, and may be taken by persons of the most delicate and sensitive organizations, who are unpleasantly affected by the use of the ordinary stimulants of commerce. Though their effect is most decisive, yet they are so mild and beneficent in operation, as to be suitable to children as well as to adults.

The Great Blood Remedy is VEGETINE.

Circulation of the Blood.

The circulation of the blood is the life of the body, and its stoppage is death. No disease can be in the body without first being generated in the blood, and no disease can possibly be in the body if the blood is pure. Vegetine is the great blood-purifier.

Scrofula,
Scrofulous Humor.

The Vegetine has cured many cases of Scrofula of five, ten and twenty years' standing, where the patient has had many physicians, tried many of the known remedies; and, after trying the Vegetine, the common remark is: "It acts differently, works differently, from any medicine I have ever taken." Vegetine will cleanse Scrofula from the system. Try it.

Cancer,
Cancerous Humor.

With this complaint Vegetine acts differently and works differently from any other remedy known to the medical faculty. It commences its work at the root of the disease, and the sore begins to heal at the foundation and continues gradually out toward the skin, making the sore smaller from day to day, and finally the disease is eradicated from the system.

Mercurial Diseases.

The conviction is, in the public mind as well as in the medical profession, that the remedies supplied by the Vegetable Kingdom are more safe, more successful in the cure of disease than mineral medicines. Vegetine is composed of roots, barks and herbs. It is pleasant to take, and is perfectly safe to give to an infant. Do you need it? Do not hesitate to try it. You will never regret it.

Tumors.

Dr. TU-SEE says: "It is unnecessary for me to enumerate the diseases for which the Vegetine should be used. I know of no disease which will not admit of its use with good results. Almost innumerable complaints are caused by poisonous secretions in the blood, which can be entirely expelled from the system by the use of Vegetine. When the blood is perfectly cleansed the disease rapidly yields, all pains cease, healthy action is promptly restored, and the patient is cured."

Female Weakness.

Vegetine acts directly upon the causes of these complaints. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cleanses and cures ulceration, cures constipation, regulates the bowels, headache and pains in the back cease; in fact there is no disease or complaint where the Vegetine gives so quick relief, and is so effective in its cure, as in what is termed Female Weakness. It has never failed in one instance.

Canker,
Cankerous Humor.

Vegetine will eradicate every trace of Canker or Cankerous Humor from the system. Do not leave off taking Vegetine while you are obtaining help and feeling better, but take it regularly and effect a cure of the disease. The time and quantity of Vegetine to be taken to effect a cure depends upon the nature and severity of the disease.

Pimples on the Face
AND
Eruptions of the Skin.

For this complaint Vegetine is the great remedy. It cleanses and purifies the blood, causing pimples, eruptions and humors to disappear, and does its work in a perfectly natural way. Reason should teach us that a blotchy, rough or pimpled skin depends entirely upon an internal cause, and no outward application can ever cure the defect.

Salt Rheum.

Vegetine has cured many cases of Salt Rheum, and many of them of several years' standing, when many other remedies have failed to effect a cure. All forms of this disease occur most frequently in the spring and autumn, and are usually attended with burning, tingling and very troublesome itching, especially when the blood is in a heated condition.

Read the testimonials which appear in this paper every Wednesday and Saturday.

VEGETINE is Sold by all Druggists.
